Selectmen To Oppose Rezoning Articles At Town Meeting

By Sue Aucella Deacon

When former selectman Sidney P. White presents two articles requesting zoning bylaw amendments on the floor of special town meeting next Thursday night, the selectmen will recommend that voters disapprove those articles.

The selectmen will also recommend disapproval of a third private article to be brought before town meeting by William Gurry.

The board Monday night voted three to two against White's proposed zoning bylaw amendment, which would permit him to sell an 18-acre parcel on Andover Street for development as a townhouse cluster development. Selectmen Edward Harris and Jerry Silverman voted in favor of White's articles.

The selectmen were unanimous, however, in their stand against Gurry's proposal to rezone a Main Street lot from residential to central business, calling the proposal "spot zoning."

Explaining the board's vote against White's articles, Chairman James Abramson said he is not "personally opposed" to townhouse cluster zoning. But the "majority of the board feels that the full implications of townhouse zoning are not at this point known — the town has not been given sufficient time to know the implications," he said.

Townsman Offices Moving

We're on the move!

As of Monday, Nov. 17, the Andover Townsman offices will be located at 89 North Main St.

Dictated by the continued, rapid growth of the newspaper which has served Andover for over 94 years, the move from the 15 Central St. location will begin today, but actual business operations will not begin in the new quarters until Monday morning.

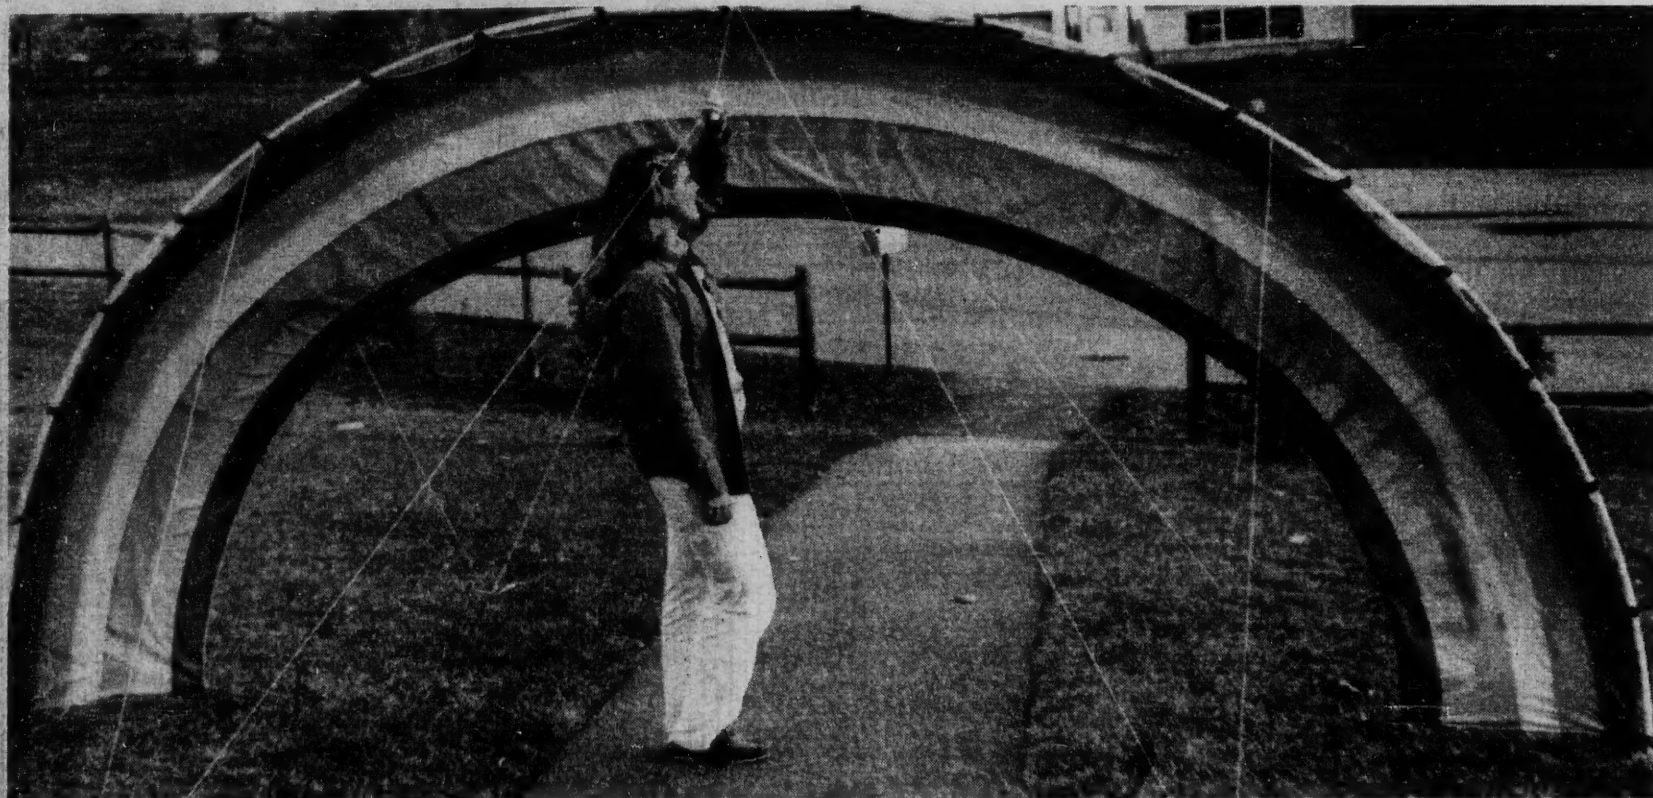

Townsman personnel will continue to operate at the Central Street location through Friday afternoon.

The move to the larger quarters will be accompanied by new and modern production facilities. Computerized typesetting equipment will be installed at the new location following the holiday season to better meet the modern needs of the newspaper.

Since moving to the Central Street location eight years ago, the Townsman has more than doubled in size and circulation continuing to keep pace with the growth of the community.

The 89 North Main Street location is designed to better serve our customers as well as produce the weekly publication with the most up-to-date production facilities.

Birthday Rainbow

Last Wednesday was not the sunniest of days, but Melanie Cassell of 5 Snowberry Path Road awoke to find a rainbow arched over her front walk. The brightly-colored canvas rainbow was a hand-made 16th birthday gift from Brian Hollenbeck, who strung it up at 6:30 a.m. The unusual birthday greeting was "definitely a surprise," Melanie said.

Aluminum Recycling Scheduled

By Virginia Cole

Aluminum will be collected again on Dec. 6, the day of the Santa Claus parade, from 10-2 behind town hall. Please note that the hours are shorter, due to cooler weather. Cans should not be left behind town hall when we are not there. All the material brought to us must be checked by a magnet so that we know it is aluminum.

Here is a list to help you know what to save. The only food cans that we have found that are aluminum are some sardines, Hormel and Armour canned meat products, such as vienna sausages, corned beef hash, some sizes of Spam and Treet.

Shasta soft drinks seem to be always aluminum as are 7 Up.

Beer is a much harder problem. Sometimes one size is in aluminum and another size in steel. The following have been sold in aluminum in this area. Please check with your magnet. Black Label, Pearl Lager, Tuborg Gold, Old Milwaukee (large), Narragansett (large), Ballantine, Colt 45, Schaefer (large), Miller, Schlitz (large), Budweiser (small), Light, Utica Club, Lite, Rolling Rock. We cannot sell steel cans and have no way of disposing of them.

The October collection was very good. It will be sold this week and we are expect-ting a record amount. Thanks to all.

On another subject, Andover recycled 95 tons of paper in October. The price is still $15 per ton. For the first time last month we received $20 per ton for glass. If all of you out there would drink your beer in glass instead of steel cans, and then recycle that glass, another giant step could be made in reducing the waste stream.

AVIS Holds Annual Meeting

The Andover Village Improvement Society held its 85th annual meeting Tuesday evening at the Christian Formation Center.

Following a social hour and dinner, Nick Orrick, president, presided at a brief business meeting. Trustees who were renominated and reelected for a three year term were Thomas E. Cone, III, Charles S. Gaunt, Eileen Reilly, Alfred A. Spatola. New elected was Margaret Keck. David G. Roberts, Jr., was reelected to the finance committee.

A.V.I.S. new published book, "AVIS: A History In Conservation" was available for the first time and was received enthusiastically. It is an account of the society together with Andover, its people and their attitudes and the accomplishments which have been achieved in the past 85 years. It is handsomely bound, contains pictures, illustrations and maps and is well indexed. Hereafter, it will be on sale at the Andover Book Store.

The program was the moving account of the successful ascent of Everest by the Americans in 1960, "Americans on Everest." Willi Unsoeld, a former Andover resident took part in the climb.

The following officers for the coming year were then elected at a trustees meeting: Nick Orrick, president; Claus Dengler, first vice-president; Lyn Beattie, second vice-president; Al Koch, third vice-president; Charles Gaunt, treasurer; Tom Cone, secretary; and Dave Roberts, Jr., investment committee.

Photo Show

A two-man show of photographs opens on Nov. 15 and continues through Dec. 12 at Bradford College's Laura Knott Gallery.

The works of Ken Brown and Jim Stone, Boston area artists who also teach at Boston University, deal with visual puns or juxtapositions of reality and an advanced sense of humor.

Toys For Tots Campaign Underway

This year, the local Marine Corps Reserve will once again be sponsoring a "Toys for Tots" campaign, in the Merrimack Valley area.

To aid this year's drive only new toys will be solicited. These toys should not be gift wrapped. This is due to a variation of age groups, and the concept of a boy receiving a girls toy.

The drive will end on Dec. 22, supporting organizations are asked to schedule their pickups well in advance. No pickups will be scheduled after Dec. 19 and the last day for pickups is Dec. 22.

Volpe Named FinCom Member

Peter J. Volpe, 8 Bristol Lane, has been named to a three year term on the Finance Committee by Moderator James D. Doherty.

Volpe, a graduate of Merrimack College with a degree in business, is treasurer of the Volpe Construction Co. of Malden. He is also a member of state and national Associated General Contractors.

He replaces Robert Merrill who did not seek reappointment following the annual town meeting. Volpe's appointment brings the board to full strength.

No Leaf Pickup; Six Bags Still The Rule

Andover halted roadside leaf pickup as an economy measure at town meeting a year ago.

Residents must now get rid of the autumn leaves as best they can by either using the town refuse service, or taking them to the former sanitary landfill site on Chandler Road on Saturdays.

When bagging leaves and placing them at curbside for pickup, residents should also be aware that the contractor will pick up only six bags per household.

Zollner Named To Committee

Robert S. Zollner has been named a voting member of the recently appointed Transportation and Traffic Advisory Committee, with the selectmen voting to confirm his appointment Monday night.

Zollner joins Police Chief James Johnson, John Avery, Theodore

Warshaw, Frank Emmert and Frank Trombly on the committee.

The new committee will advise town officials on all matters involving public transportation, traffic regulations, and parking, said Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

Selectmen Approve Licenses

The board of selectmen approved several licenses and permits during a regular meeting at Memorial Hall Library Monday night.

One-day all alcoholic beverage licenses were granted to the Christian Formation Center, River Road, for dinner dances on Nov. 22, Dec. 5, Dec. 6, Dec. 11, Dec. 12, Dec. 13, Dec. 19, Dec. 20, and Dec. 21; for a 50th anniversary party on Dec. 10; and for the Rainbow Club on Dec. 10.

The Bay State Gas Co. was granted permission to excavate into Enmore Street and Karlton Circle to install new services, and into North Main Street, Ridge Road, and Windsor Street to repair gas mains.

Sanitary sewer connections were approved for lots on Abbot Street, Lovejoy Road, Sioux Circle, and Cheyenne Circle.

And Joel Shapiro was granted a one-day auctioneer's license for the sale of handmade oriental rugs at the Sheraton-Rolling Green, 8 to 10 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17.

Revalue Work Nearing Completion

Crews from PRC Jacobs Co., doing the town's revaluation work, are nearing completion of examining properties throughout the town.

The workers are in the West Andover area and anticipate completion of the property checks by Thanksgiving. Eugene Tworek, project manager for the firm, stated this week that he was hopeful that persons who had received tags on their door after a visit found no one at home, would call the office at 475-0635, as soon as possible. This will allow appointments to be made and the property checked.

DCS Apologizes For Huge Success

The Andover Department of Community Services held a Haunted House Thursday, Oct. 30, at the Stowe School and was overwhelmed at the numbers of people who turned out for this special event.

Five hundred individuals passed through the old halls that evening and almost they many left the long cold waiting-line and headed for home. Success, although sweet, might have come too fast for the Haunted House. The department would like to apologize for any inconveniences that individuals experienced while waiting to get inside the house. Organizers of the Haunted House did not have any prior indication that the event would attract over four times as many individuals as it did last year.

A number of procedures were changed throughout the evening in order to accommodate as many persons as possible. There were however, certain individuals - adults as well as youths - who pushed their way through with a vengeance and were rude to those at the entrance. Some parents not only insulted workers but refused to pay the nominal entrance fee.

Walk In Middleton

On Sunday, Nov. 16, the Essex County Greenbelt Association will hold a walk on the Barrett Reservation in Middleton. Meet at Middleton Center junction of Routes 114 and 62 at 1 p.m. This will be a lovely walk on woodsy paths over hill and dale. Come and bring your friends.

Again, the many volunteers tried their best to accommodate the unanticipated, overwhelming success of the program.

The haunted house will be moving next year to an, as yet, undisclosed location, and will be "revamping" its program. With the strong possibility of offering the haunted house on two or three consecutive evenings, the program will require twice as many volunteers. Any service organization or group wishing to co-sponsor this event with the department would be greatly appreciated and encouraged to contact Mary Donohue. Other individuals wishing to volunteer should contact the department next fall.

new venture will be presented Thanksgiving weekend, Friday and Saturday evening, Nov. 28 and 29. With so many families gathering for the Thanksgiving holiday, the drama and music clubs hope this will provide an opportunity for recent graduates to renew acquaintances and also have an enjoyable evening of musical comedy.

This musical is the story of a young man, Finch, who buys a book — How To Succeed un Business Without Really Trying — and follows it step by step. Along the way there are many interesting episodes which provke considerable humor and special insight in the human condition. Anyone who has ever worked in an office will delight at the ingenious ways that Finch masters the art of making each place the right place, and each time the right time for his meteoric rise to the top.

Robert Morse (from Newton) and Rudy Vallee made this musical a Broadway hit. Morse's part is taken by Jay Winnick and Vallee's role by Mike Chiklis. The romantic interest is Rosemary, a secretary, played by Andrea Feier. All three students will be remembered for their outstanding performances in Guys and Dolls last spring. Rounding the main cast characters will be Jane Dietzel, Andy Roehr, Dan Maurno, Corinne Evans and Kathy Brooks.

AIM Presents Pickwick Puppets

Sleeping Beauty and Wicked Fairy

Adventures In Music begins its 1980-81 season with the Pickwick Puppet Theatre's production of "The Sleeping Beauty" by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky at Reading Memorial High School, Sunday, Nov. 16 at 1, 3 and 5 p.m. The Pickwick Puppet Theatre has been commissioned four times by Thomas Scherman's Little Orchestra Society to create puppet versions of musical masterpieces; the ballet, "The Sleeping Beauty" is one of these and was performed for the first time at Lincoln Center.

Andover children will travel through a fantasy world of royalty, dragons, kind and wicked fairies. The ballet differs from the fairy tale in the importance of the Lilac Fairy. The life-sized puppets convey the story with dance and pantomime while a narrator tells the essential points of the story. At the conclusion of the program, the puppeteers will demonstrate how the rod puppets are manipulated and answer questions from the audience. The technique of operation has developed from a centuries-old Far Eastern puppetry.

Advance reservation sales this year were so large that new concert times have been added.

Contact Mrs. Richard Tesman for more information about the performance or for which times seats are still available.

Entries for the drawing competition for the "AIM Strikes Back" concert must be submitted at local schools by Dec. 1. If any student wishes more information, contact the school art or music teacher.

Tough Decisions Due Next Year

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The passage of Proposition 2½ will force Andover residents to make some tough decisions, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said last Friday — but those decisions are a year away.

"The impact of 2½ on Andover, now that it has passed, will be the same as I said it would be before it passed," Clark emphasized. "It will not have an extraordinary effect on Andover in the first year."

But the property tax-cutting measure will have a long-term effect on the town, the manager said, which may include decreased services, inhibited industrial growth, and the loss of $3.5 million in state aid.

Andover's current revaluation efforts will cushion the town from the immediate effects of 2½, and provide "a year's delay before we feel the brunt of it," Clark said.

He explained that revaluation will show the town is now at two and one-half percent of real valuation, so that there will be no general property tax reduction for Andover property owners.

"If an individual's property tax bill does happen to go down, it will be because of revaluation," Clark indicated, "and not because of 2½."

Andover residents will see a decrease in their excise bills, however, as 2½ cuts that tax from $66 to $25 per thousand. That will represent a loss in revenue of $700,000 to the town during fiscal year 1981, the manager said, and $1.5 million the following year.

But he anticipates that the town will be able to "accommodate that loss without any major service reductions." The school department, however, may face "significantly" greater service reductions because it will also be carrying a $1.35 million debt increase, due to the school building program.

The state legislature could alleviate that burden by exempting debt service expenses and interest from 2½'s limitations — which Clark believes they will do, he said.

Andover will eventually begin to feel the impact of 2½ because the town will be restricted to a two-and-one-half percent increase in the total levy limit each year, the manager said.

Revenues from the town's healthy industrial base will begin to be funneled into reducing the property tax rate, leading Clark to fear that "growth will no longer be desirable," with the town's "declining ability to provide services" among the new "disincentives for growth," he said.

The manager is also worried that Andover faces the potential loss of $3.5 million in state aid. "This is not an accomplished fact," Clark said. "But we could lose our state aid, because other communities may need it more. If the towns are relatively silent because they are not feeling the budget crisis resulting from 2½ as much as the cities, we will lose our state aid. We have to be on our political guard."

What will happen when the 2½ crunch does begin to hit Andover? Budget cuts will have to come from the police, fire and public works departments, or the library and community services — and town meeting will have an important say in where those cuts will be made.

"We will implement 2½ — we will not try to circumvent it," Clark said. "But we will do it in consultation with the public. It's Andover's problem — not mine alone."

After living under the state's four percent tax cap for two budgetary cycles, Clark believes most of the "obvious" waste has already been trimmed from Andover's operation with such measures as fuel conservation at town hall and other public buildings, and reduced use of motor fuels in the police departments.

For that reason, reduced services are almost inevitable under 2½. "There is more we can do to eliminate waste, no question," Clark said. "We may be able to cut a few thousand from the budget, but not $3.5 million. It's a simplistic belief that we can have lower taxes and not

To Compose 'Hit List' On Town Services

THE TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 13, 1980

Looking forward to preparing the town budget for fiscal year 1982 in the wake of Proposition 2½, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark estimates that a seven percent decrease in services will be needed to make up for reduced revenues from the excise tax.

The selectmen therefore plan to come up with a "hit list" of services that could be cut, board members said Monday night. The list will then be used as part of the budget preparation process.

Selectman Susan Poore suggested town officials consider "no new projects, no new personnel, no new anything that is not essential, and then look at what we have."

The manager, however, said, "I don't know any non-essential services that Andover provides — we have the police and fire departments, public works, the library, and a $300,000 budget for community services, of which $100,000 comes from user fees and charges."

Poore countered that "what we consider essential today may not be considered essential tomorrow — we have some hard choices to make."

Townpeople may have difficulty accepting reduced services because, when they voted for Proposition 2½, "they voted for a tax cut, not a service reduction," Clark said.

As an example of a possible service reduction, he said school crossing guards could be eliminated for a savings of $27,000 per year. "But I predict that three-quarters of Andover would be sitting here before you the very next day to complain," Clark said.

Witover Is Series Speaker

The Chief of Adolescent Services at St. John's Hospital, Stephen B. Witover, M.D. of Andover, will be the speaker at the second of the hospital's free "Health Happenings."

Dr. Witover, who is also the medical coordinator of the widely known St. John's Hospital Teen Health Service, will discuss "The Pains and Pleasures of Parenthood" on Monday evening, Nov. 24 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the hospital's nurses' residence auditorium on Stackpole Street.

Area parents are urged to take the opportunity to hear an expert talk about how parents can help children through the difficult growing years and examine the question of whether or not the sacrifice is worth the reward.

In addition to his responsibilities at St. John's Hospital, Dr. Witover is also a member of the medical staff at St. Joseph's Hospital, the New England Medical Center and Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston.

The November 24 program is the second in a free health series which is open to the public, and this month's program follows a well-attended lecture last month by Dr. Murray Feingold.

Ella Jenkins, Chicago, Ill., will present a special opening family concert on Friday, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at West Elementary School, Andover.

Dynamic and alive, Ms. Jenkins relates to each member of the family from 2 to 102, and is known by thousands of parents and educators for her work with children and rhythm. Her family concert will be entitled, "Friendship Journey in Rhythm and Song."

Sponsored by West Parish Church in cooperation with Memorial Hall Library, Interchart '80 will be a time when parents and children can create, share and enjoy entertainment as a family and participate in various events that will only be limited by the depths of their imaginations.

The children's art workshops will include painting, rock sculptures, clay modeling, wire sculptures, makeup, costume creations, nature, nutrition, and musical instruments. Children will have an opportunity to rotate to each booth throughout the day.

Children will also have a unique opportunity to visit "Grandma's Attic" and share the nostalgia of years gone by. Parents and children alike will delight at this fascinating collection of memorabilia gathered together by Gladys McCabe, Andover.

Entertainment highlights include new games - participation in non-competitive experiences presented by Steven Butler, Newburyport.

Creative movement for the entire family will be offered by Cynthia Hollenbeck, Andover. Noted for her work with children, she has a unique sense of body movement for all those that are young at heart.

Jack Gantos, children's books author and illustrator, will present a special program for pre-schoolers ages three to six.

Clowning, including the art of makeup and making people laugh, will be presented by William Murphy. Children will have an opportunity to actually participate in the art of clowning and use the experience throughout the day.

Dorothy Rankin and her nursery rhyme characters will be talking with the children and their parents throughout the program.

"Sandwiches by the ounce," a highlight of last year's luncheon will also be brought back by popular demand. Those desiring lunch will be able to build their own sandwich and pay by the ounce. Lunch will be available 11:30 to 2.

Ella Jenkins

The festival is supported in part by a grant from the Smith-Purdon Fund and by the "friends" of Interchart.

COULD YOU SAY THIS IN GOOD CONSCIENCE

I believe in myself.

I believe in my neighbor.

I believe in the unity of myself and my neighbor.

I believe in the progressive achievement of a universal community of human cooperation and fellowship.

I believe in love and intelligence as the most potent agents for developing the ideal world within the actual.

I believe in my universe as a kind of place that brings into existence all the values, purposes, and possibilities of human life.

I believe that human life is a growing point in the universe.

I believe that my life finds significance only as I identify myself with the creative process.

IF YOU COULD SAY THESE WORDS [ by E. Burdette Backus ] you would join with Unitarian Universalists all over the world, who see themselves and life in much this way.

We, at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, at 244 Lowell Street [ Route 133 ] invite you to join us. Or call for more information, 475-4454

We gather at 10:30 a.m. Sundays for our services and religious education for our children.

Community Service To Be At Temple

There will be a community Thanksgiving Service on Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 7:30. The service will be held at Temple Emanuel on Haggetts Pond Road in Andover. Participating in this inter-faith service will be clergy and lay representatives of churches and religious organizations in the town of Andover.

The evening will be a reflection on Thanksgiving, celebrating in readings and Psalms and hymns the many blessings God has bestowed on his people in this country.

A coffee hour will follow this service. Everyone is invited to attend.

Pledging By Pony Express

Keith Gould receives the mail from Dot Tavern, while Parson Egmont holds "Turnpike."

The Pony Express rides again. South Church begins a novel and energetic pledge campaign Sunday, Nov. 16, when the "circuit riders" get their mailbags from the "trail bosses." The breakfast meeting, chaired by Charles Cutler, marks the second year for South Church's twentieth century resurrection of the Pony Express.

Pledge cards are distributed in a saddlebag which is passed from family to family. As soon as each family has decided on its pledge, they carry the pouch to the next family in the parish. If the pouch gets held up, the "trail boss" makes a call and gets the express moving again. "Everyone responds positively to the idea of the Pony Express," says Charles Cutler. "and we're looking forward to a banner year." The trail begins Sunday morning with a breakfast for all trail bosses and circuit riders.

Interestingly enough, the real Pony Express was also a gigantic sort of horse race. Riders galloped in relays for 2,000 or more miles. It was a private enterprise.

The firm recruited daring young riders, distributed Bibles to all, and prohibited drinking and swearing.

Students Get Merit Commendation

By Laurie Lewis

Why is it that this year Andover High School has 28 commendations from the National Scholarship Committee of the College Boards? "I feel some students are taking their studies more seriously, and putting more time and effort into them," is the answer given by Phillips Wormwood, Principal of Andover High School.

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, which are also the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying tests, are taken by most students at the end of their sophomore year or at the beginning of their junior year. The student's rank, based on the nationwide performance is not known until their senior year.

To be commended, one must score in the top 5 percent nationwide. This year there were 28 students, the largest number ever in the history of Andover High School. In addition to the 28 commended students, there were six semi-finalists, who have already been announced.

To give some understanding of the individuals represented in this group of 28, when they were asked the question of what contributed to a successful academic record, they answered diligence, interest in subject, a strong curriculum at the high school, positive environment, good study habits, self-discipline and encouragement from parents. Some schools that they were considering were Cornell, West Point, University of Lowell and Charleton. All felt education was important and had a positive attitude toward it.

The names of the commended students are:

William H. Coderre, Laura L. Coombs, Jane I. Dietzel, Erik P. Doherty, Daniel J.

An incredible new boiler is being marketed by one of our nation's largest manufacturers.

Cuts your heating bills up to 35% or more.

New HYDRO-PULSE™ unit can cut gas bills up to 35%.

More of the gas burned by the Hydro-Pulse boiler is used to heat the home... and none is wasted up a live or chimney. The temperature of the combustion gases leaving the Hydro-Pulse boiler are so low, no flue or chimney are needed. A plastic pipe simply carries the exhaust outdoors.

A HYDRO-PULSE™ unit saves more each year.

If the Hydro-Pulse boiler saves you $300 this year, in five years, with costs doubling, it will save you $600

Roger Pellegrini figures he saved $2,344.

Mr. Pellegrini tells us he saved, by his own estimation, $2,344, or 64%, with the Hydro-Pulse boiler units in his factory-type building in Piermont, N.Y.

If you're switching from oil or electric, savings can be 40% or more.

In many instances, your savings can pay for the entire cost of an installed Hydro-Pulse boiler in three years or less.

Fuel bills will keep rising.

Industry analysts predict that fuel costs will continue to soar for oil and gas during the next 10 years. Protect yourself now with the Hydro-Pulse heating unit.

Joseph W. Ensel estimates a $789 saving.

His total bill for the two coldest months of last year using the Hydro-Pulse boiler was $151.85 for heating, domestic hot water and gas clothes dryer. Mr. Ensel's home is 1,800 square feet.

Approved and Certified.

The Hydro-Pulse unit is approved and certified by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (A.S.M.E.) and the American Gas Association (A.G.A.).

Workshop To Demonstrate Activities

Parents and teachers of Andover's 3 to 8 year old children are invited to a demonstration of physical education activities designed to stimulate development in the young child.

Mrs. Daryl Arsenault, Miss Donna Guiffre, and David Nichols are planning a participatory workshop based on material from their recently published book, Motor Activities for the Underachiever, The Last Pick. The program is sponsored by Andover schools where the authors comprise the Adaptive Physical Education Department.

Slave Days

The choir students at Andover High School have announced the 1980 Slave Days project. They are willing to rake, shovel, wash windows and cars for the nominal fee of $2.50 per hour. If interested in enlisting the help of these young people, you may call the high school.

Citizen Info

Free information and referral agency on all aspects of state government is operated by the Secretary of State's Office at 1 Ashburton Pl., Boston. Call 1-800-392-6090 Monday through Friday, 9 to 5.

The Bancroft School gymnasium is the site for the Nov. 18 workshop to be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. For further information, contact the Early Childhood Department of Andover Schools.

Andover children have been benefiting from the expertise of Mrs. Arsenault, Miss Guiffre and Nichols for a variety of reasons. They provide additional physical education for children assessed to need it under the Special Needs Program. They designed, researched and supervise the pre-kindergarten screening section that pertains to motor development. They are part of the kindergarten team using a preventative approach to deal with developmental lags during the child's readiness years. In addition, the Adaptive Physical Education team has provided workshops for teachers with ideas to provide extra motor activity in the classroom for cold days or for extended learning. Booklets containing activity ideas have been available to both teachers and parents.

WESTern Roundup

By Kathy Mulvey, Ellen Byrne, Mary Driscoll

In honor of our country's veterans, a number of students represented West Junior High in a ceremony held Monday at Memorial Hall Library. The West Side Singers sang "America the Beautiful" and "My Country Tis of Thee." The Student Council president, Maura King, delivered a speech, as did Mr. Dewire, head of the Social Studies department, and our principal, William E. Hart. A wreath was placed in front of the library to show our respect for the nation's veterans. To close the program, two trumpeter played Taps. The eighth grade football team defeated Kane, 6-0, on Nov. 5. The freshman soccer team completed its season with a 5-2 loss to East.

The seventh grade is holding its fourth annual Thanksgiving Turkey Raffle to support the outdoor education program. Each student who wishes to participate in one of this year's trips to the Cape Cod National seashore must sell tickets to cover his own expense.

On Wednesday, Nov. 12, a Family Cabaret was held in the W.J.H. cafeteria. This enjoyable variety show consisted of solo acts and appearances by the West Side Singers and the Junior High handbell choir. The cafeteria was decorated to resemble a cafe and refreshments were served. It proved to be a fun experience for those who participated in it and those who attended the event.

Understanding Handicaps Goal Of New Program

The public is invited to preview an exciting new curriculum, "Understanding Handicaps," Wednesday evening, Nov. 19. The goal of this curriculum, which will be introduced into the Andover elementary schools this year, is to educate and sensitize children to the world of the handicapped.

The curriculum is made up of four units, each unit dealing with a separate handicap. The four handicaps include blindness, deafness, physical limitations and mental retardation. The units will be presented in two sessions of approximately one and one half hours using books, films, discussions, and simulation activities using the appropriate aids and appliances. At the end of each unit the children will be given the opportunity to meet and talk with an adult who has the handicap.

This program was developed at the Meeting Street School in Rhode Island and adapted for use in the public schools in Newton, Mass. Members of the Andover Parents 766 Advisory Council attended a workshop this summer in Newton where the curriculum was demonstrated.

Also at Wednesday's meeting the film, "Including Me," narrated by Patricia Neal, will be shown. This film sensitively depicts the frustrations of the handicapped.

The program will begin at 7:30 in the upstairs meeting room of the Andover Memorial Library.

The art works of John Bubrowski, a recent art graduate of Salem State College, will be on display throughout the month of November at the Winfisky Gallery located in the SSC Student Union Building.

Bubrowski's specialty lies in the acrylic medium where he concentrates on organic shapes, abstracts and on the brush stroke more than the subject matter.

For further information, contact the Winfisky Gallery.

Alcohol was used first as a fuel in 1900 to replace the smelly whale oil used in lamps. Henry Ford regarded alcohol production as a way for farmers to become energy producers.

AVIS Book Reminds Us Nothing New Under The Sun

By Linda S. Corbett

It might have been yesterday, instead of 1894, when the townspeople rallied to the cause.

The "charming drives" that used to draw people out from the city were turning to "unsightliness." There were traffic jams at the center and too much noise and too much litter in the streets.

The Musgrove Building popped up on the only "open green plot" left on Elm Square, a "labyrinth" of overhead wires powered the new electric railway of up Elm Street, and other trappings of progress were taking their toll, when a foresighted bunch of townspeople announced plans for an organizational meeting in the Andover Townsman of April 27, 1894.

And so, the Andover Village Improvement Society, with its modern-sounding acronym AVIS, got underway to "improve and ornament the streets and public grounds, by planting and cultivating trees, cleaning and repairing sidewalks. . ."

The group, which has evolved over the years from beautification to acquisition and conservation of meadows and riverbanks and woodlands, is the subject of a newly-published book: AVIS — A History in Conservation, by Juliet Haines Mofford.

Mofford traces AVIS from its first real challenge, the saving of the geologically important Indian Ridge Reservation and its first "property," a crippled old landmark tree nick-named Samson's Hockey, through years of action.

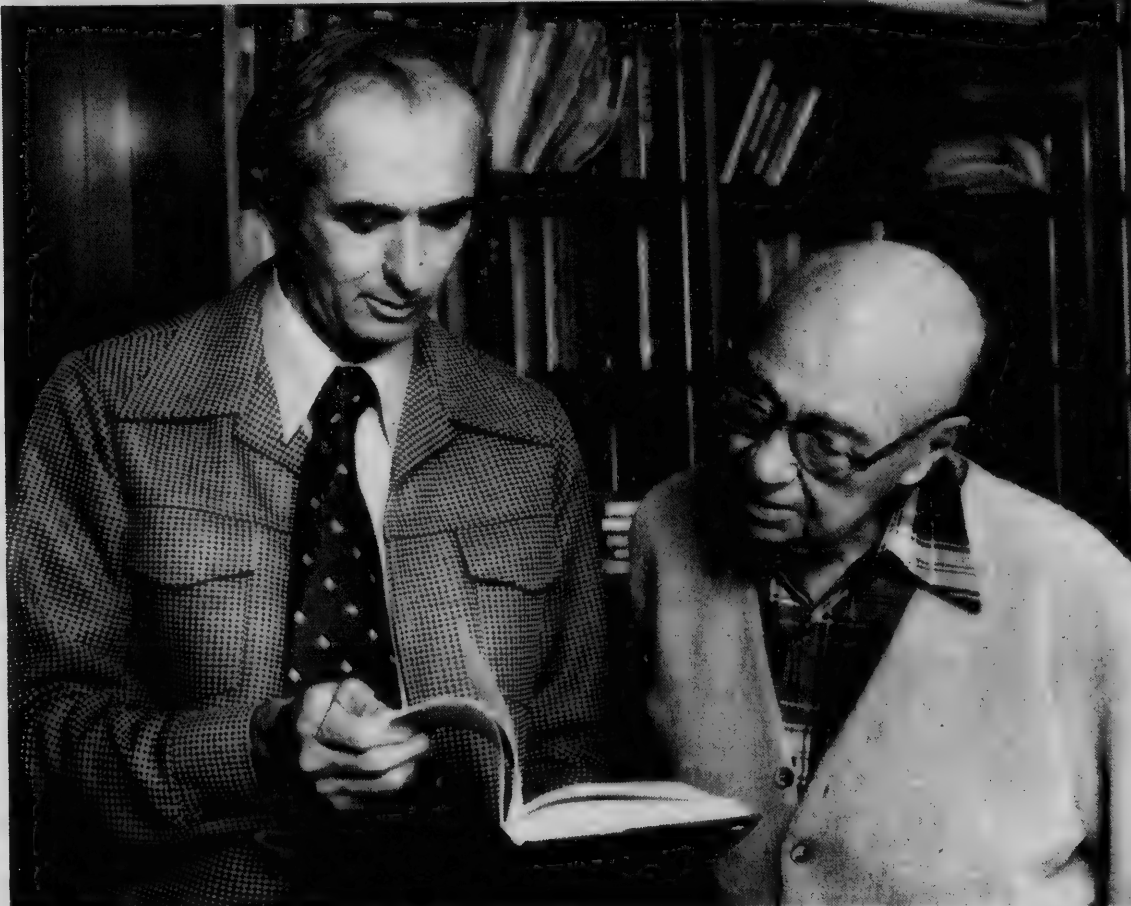

The organization today holds 847 acres of property throughout Andover, laced with hiking and ski trails that offer a "semi-wilderness" experience to all those who would pass behind the now-familiar, yellow-lettered AVIS signs.

In its early years, Mofford tells us, AVIS cleaned up the Manse Green at the triangle of School and Central Streets, long a dumping place for road building debris. They converted the center balcony at Town Hall to a window garden, sold flower and vegetable seeds to Andover school children for a penny a packet, and took over such other small properties as Donald Park in Shawsheen, formerly a stopover for runaway slaves, and Roger's Dell at the foot of School Street, which they changed from an "unsightly dump to a charming dell."

Enthusiasm was dulled by war and the Depression during the 30's and 40's, according to Mofford, but was "regenerated" in the 1950's by the man who came to be known as "Mr. AVIS" himself: Harold R. Rafton.

While the book serves as a history of the organization, claims it is really a tribute to Rafton for leading AVIS through its

The Andovers Portrait of Two New England Towns

Some readers will enjoy the tours of North Andover and Andover that the sequence of illustrations in this book provides. Some will want the book for the historical portrait the photographs give of each town. Some will want the book because they have long waited for this study by Katharine Knowles, whose photographs have captured the spirit of so much of New England and now, finally, of the area in which she was brought up.

Concept Acceptable; Bylaw Is A Problem

While some townspeople say that a 48-unit townhouse development at the corner of Andover Street and Argilla Road might be just fine, they fear that less acceptable condominium developments may spring up in its wake.

The crowd of more than 80 who attended a planning board public hearing last Wednesday night seemed less concerned with the development proposed by Wynwood Associates than with the proposed zoning bylaw amendment needed to make the development possible.

The townhouse development, called Baker Village, would be built by Wynwood on an 18-acre parcel now owned by former selectman Sidney P. White.

White will bring two warrant articles, including Wynwood's plans and the proposed bylaw amendment, before a special town meeting on Nov. 20.

Atty. Andrew Caffrey, representing Wynwood, and Wynwood's John Fulton emphasized the need for additional multi-family housing in Andover.

"Other towns have recognized this need, and (similar developments) have met with enthusiastic acceptance once implemented," Caffrey said.

The development will include 16 units built around each of three cul-de-sacs, and each building will "look like a large single-family home," Fulton said.

The builders showed slides of two Lexington developments they are using as models, pointing out such features as clapboard and shingled facades, brick sidewalks, landscaped grounds and other "details that give the impression of a small village," Fulton explained.

Donald Sbea, a consultant to Wynwood, said that the townhouse development would bring "major benefits" to Andover, including $128,304 in annual property taxes.

The consultant estimated that 55 percent of potential Baker Village residents would be "empty nesters," 40-to-60-year olds with no children living with them; 25 percent, retirees of age 60 and over; and 20 percent, first-time home-buyers ages 25 to 40.

A total of nine school-age children would probably live in the development, Shea said, creating "minimal impact" on the Andover school system.

Phillip Herr, a consultant to the planning board, said he would agree with Shea's "broad conclusions," although he said he might come up with "different" numbers in some instances.

One area resident, Joan Epstein of Homestead Circle, said she objected to the proposed development because "we bought our houses because we wanted to be in a certain type of area, and now this is going to be changed."

Most of those present, however, expressed more concern for the changes the proposed bylaw amendment might allow in Andover.

"I am an abutter," said Sue Redgate of Rose Glen Drive, "and I would like to see Wynwood do this. But I am very concerned with the bylaw, concerned about what other developers might do. We could see a very tacky piece of work."

Former planning board member Margaret Keck predicted that the new bylaw "will be used by others. There will be a rash of requests for rezoning if this bylaw is accepted by the town."

"I feel very strongly that rushing into this is just the wrong thing to do," she added.

Selectman Susan Poore said she agreed with Keck: "Do we want these little villages clustered all over Andover?" she asked. "I am concerned with the meaning, intent and purpose of this bylaw."

Fulton argued, "I can't buy the idea that every builder in town is going to start building condominiums — you just could not possibly do this on most of the land in town."

"Our bylaw is not perfect," Caffrey added, "but it can be amended at spring town meeting — the town can come up with a bylaw that addresses the problems."

The planning board consultant, however, explained that "someone could come in the week before spring town meeting with a preliminary subdivision plan and freeze this zoning for five years."

It's very dangerous if you adopt something that has a gap in it."

Among the inadequacies of the proposed amendment, said planning board chairman Paul Teplitz, is that it "provides no guidance for the town's intent in providing such a district, and what the town would like to encourage and discourage."

Teplitz repeated the planning board's position that the town needs more time to develop its own bylaw amendment, for spring town meeting approval.

According to Herr, the town does not have adequate time to study all the implications of White's proposed bylaw before the special town meeting.

"And when town meeting acts," Herr pointed out, "it may have long-term consequences for the town."

Meeting May Move To June

The annual spring town meeting, traditionally held during April, may be delayed until early June while the town waits for the state legislature to deal with Proposition 2½, the town manager said Monday night.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said Representative Gerald Cohen believes the legislature will not take up the proposition until late in their session.

Legislative action on 2½ may effect the town's budget, according to how — and if — the legislators amend the tax-cutting measure.

Clark suggested the town plan town meeting for early June, and reconvene a special town meeting if any budget changes later become necessary.

Duck Bridge Reopens

Commissioner Dean P. Amidon of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, announced the Union Street Bridge (Duck Bridge) over the Merrimack River in Lawrence was reopened to traffic Wednesday, Nov. 12. The bridge was closed in July as part of the rehabilitation of both the Union Street Bridge and the Joseph W. Casey Memorial (Central) Bridge.

Amidon stated with the reopening of the Union Street Bridge, work will begin on Nov. 13 to repair the Central Bridge, also in Lawrence. The Central Bridge will be repaired on one side at a time, starting on the easterly half of the structure. Two-way traffic will be maintained on the westerly half of the bridge. The department estimates the rehabilitation will take one year for each half of the bridge. Completion date for the entire project is November, 1982.

The contractor for the $6 million project to refurbish the two bridges is the J.F. White Contracting Co., Newton.

Illegal Dump Under Court Action Threat

Illegal dumping at 51 Argilla Road, on property owned by Colombosian and Sons, could be a potential health hazard, attracting rats, providing a breeding ground for mosquitoes, and endangering wetlands, Director of Public Health Everett Penny, Jr. said Monday night.

Penny told the selectmen that Colombosians have not adequately responded to several Board of Health orders to clean up the dump, leading town counsel to advise litigation as "the only effective way" to get offending materials removed.

The selectmen moved to authorize such litigation, but tabled the motion for two weeks when Robert Colombosian of 55 Argilla Road said he had "hired and paid a person to take care of it a month go — it's all finished."

Penny explained that he had inspected the site last Wednesday, and had not been informed of Colombosian's efforts to clean up the landfill area. "I would be glad to resurvey the property, but it has to be done to the satisfaction of the Board of Health," he explained. "That's the key thing."

The problem began when the Colombosians had a "deteriorating building" on the property razed, Penny said.

"Some material from the building was removed from the site, and some of it was spread over the property and buried quite properly," he explained.

But "four or five truckloads" of "garbage, trash and refuse, including parts of old bikes and hunks of concrete" remain toward the back of the lot, Penny said.

"Dina Hammond of the Conservation Commission, former Building Inspector William Meins and I inspected the property three or four times, and we all agreed that the material is a potential health hazard and (endangers) the wetlands," he indicated. "This is a very wet area."

The Colombosians have done "nothing" to cooperate with several Board of Health orders, Penny added.

Colombosian, however, maintained that he had hired a worker to have the material cleared away. "I haven't seen it," he told the selectmen, suggesting that "other contractors" may have dumped their garbage on the site.

Selectman Norma Gammon replied that the Colombosians are responsible for the property, while Penny added that "a precedent is being set if this is not taken care of."

The selectmen tabled their motion to authorize litigation against the Colombosians until their next meeting, scheduled for Nov. 24. Gammon advised Colombosian to "see if you can get it cleaned up" before that date.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that it is "not the interest of the town to go to court, but only to take care of the problem."

Cable TV Firms Fail To Agree

Rollins Cablevision and Continental Cablevision, the two companies competing for Andover's 15-year cable television franchise, have not yet agreed upon the choice of a consultant to study the companies' finances.

Town officials last week asked both companies to submit separate lists of acceptable consultants, hoping to choose a consultant by finding at least one match between the two lists. The cost of hiring the consultant will be shared by the companies.

However, the companies have submitted two totally different lists, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the selectmen Monday night.

Rollins' list has therefore been passed along to Continental, Clark said, and Continental has been instructed to choose an acceptable consultant from that list.

If that proves impossible, additional names will be submitted and the town will select a consultant, the manager said.

The selectmen recently voted to retain a consultant to analyze the two companies' finances after Continental challenged the accuracy of Rollins' financial statements. Rollins has won the recommendation of the Cable Advisory Committee after a year-long study.

The selectmen will await the consultant's report before awarding the license.

Looking At Ways To Cut $400,000

The lower excise tax voters approved as part of Proposition 2½ will mean a $700,000 shortfall in revenues for Andover this year, so the town manager hopes to trim $400,000 from the current town and school budgets to help make up for the loss.

"It's difficult mid-way through the fiscal year to make up for the total $700,000," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the selectmen Monday night. But with some budget cuts, the town may be able to make up for most of the lost revenues and take only $100,000 from the school budget to make up for the rest.

Clark suggested the town could be responsible for 42 percent of the $400,000 cut, or $168,000, while the schools could take care of 52 percent, or $232,000.

"This gives us a target to work toward, of the things we can begin to cut this year," Clark said.

Clark said he and Selectmen Chairman James Abramson will meet with Superintendent Kenneth Seifert, and School Committee Chairman Elaine Viemann to discuss Clark's budget-cutting proposal.

Tribute Paid Those 'Who Answered Summons'

Rev. Jack L. Daniel, Jr., pastor of the Free Christian Church, paid tribute to "those in each generation who answered the summons, and have gone to strange places all around the world to give their lives" during Veterans Day Memorial Services at Spring Grove Cemetery Tuesday morning.

Rev. Mr. Daniel was the speaker at the annual ceremony, held at the American Legion monument. Officers and members of American Legion Post 8 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2128 participated in the services, which were attended by several town officials and townspeople as well.

In his remarks, Rev. Mr. Daniel said that since World War II, "it has fallen to the United States to defend the western world against the powers of tyranny in the world."

Although "many people in our country have lost sight of and lost some confidence" in our nation's ability to play that role, the pastor said the events of 1980, including the Russian invasion of Afghanistan and the taking of American hostages in Iran, have reminded us of our history.

It is one of the "lessons of history" that "our freedom depends on a strong defense and our recovery, as a nation, of the spiritual values of compassion, faith, justice, integrity, and decency," the pastor said in his eulogy.

Clarence Johnson of American Legion Post 8 opened the ceremonies, and Legion Chaplain John Murphy read the opening prayer.

Following the Rev. Mr. Daniel's remarks, Commander Johnson and Commander Patrick Flynn of VFW 2128 placed wreaths on the monument.

Chaplain Murphy then gave the benediction, and the ceremonies were closed with a volley fired by the Andover Co. of Militia, and the sounding of Taps by Andover High School student Mark Haddard.

How we improved the 1980 Rabbit Diesel:

Introducing the 1981 Rabbit Diesel.

We never seem to just let well enough alone.
Our 1981 model actually has an engine that's even bigger than last year's. Which means you'll get a more powerful car, with better acceleration and passing power.
Plus the kind of astonishing mileage and superb comfort our Rabbit tempted you with last year. In fact, EPA estimated 42 mpg, 56 mpg highway estimate. (Use "estimated mpg" for comparison. Mpg varies with speed, trip length, weather. Actual highway mpg will probably be less.)

Facing The Task

Proposition 2½ is now a reality and, in some parts of the Commonwealth, it has brought on crises feelings.

While it will require some belt-tightening and municipal administrators wrestle with the problem of how best to meet the challenge given them by last week's vote on the referendum item, we don't look at the situation that pessimistically.

One reason is the fact that Andover's representative on Beacon Hill heads the committee on taxation and has given the matter a lot of thought over the past several months.

Rep. Gerald M. Cohen of Andover has made a very positive impression on his colleagues at the State House in the relatively short time he has been there.

As head of the committee on taxation, it will be his responsibility to respond to the voters' mandate of last week to cut property taxes and in essence be a more responsible legislative body.

He campaigned against Prop. 2½, based on the feeling that while tax reform was needed, the proposal successfully put forth by the Citizens For Limited Taxation was not a responsible answer.

Cohen has an amendment which will come before his committee and the legislature at some future date.

It aims at getting the people of Massachusetts on a par with the rest of the nation as far as support of local and state government is concerned.

Bay Staters are currently well above the average in tax paying requirements, and the Cohen amendment would alter that to bring us in line with the national average.

No doubt there will be other proposals. There will be the possibility, as mentioned in the campaign, that the sales tax may be broadened and increased, and other revenues sought to replace those lost through Prop. 2½.

While all of this may be speculative at the moment, there is a reality to be observed — the people of Massachusetts want a more responsible body working on Beacon Hill.

Based on his performance in the past and his current involvement in the state's tax picture, we tend to feel a little more comfortable knowing that Gerry Cohen will be totally involved in responding to the Prop. 2½ mandate.

And, we're proud to say that he comes from and represents Andover.

Mame, You're Wonderful

So they aren't quite Broadway, but they darn well earned the standing ovation accorded them last Friday and Saturday night at Andover East Junior High School.

We're talking about the Andover Community Theater presentation of "Mame" which played last weekend with the assistance of the Department of Community Services.

The Andover players put forth a stirring performance of the top Broadway musical, to the enjoyment of the hundreds who attended.

When a community is fortunate to have the type of talent which has been in rehearsal for many weeks, who needs Broadway or the bright lights.

In the weeks leading up to the weekend performance, there were exhausting hours of preparation by, not only the performers on stage, but those behind the scenes as well.

And, on Friday and Saturday night, like true performers, their most valued recompense was that one thing every actor yearns for — applause.

That the effort was a rewarding one was evidenced by the tear-streaked makeup on the faces of some of the cast as they acknowledged the audience reaction.

The entire company — Mame, you were wonderful.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — November 1905

Allen Hinton and Arthur Bliss, Jr., were members of a fox-hunting party at North Reading on Wednesday. Only one fox was secured by the hunters.

Lyman A. Belknap has closed his Central street residence and with his family has gone to Boston for the winter, being located at the Copley Square hotel.

A class in physical culture has been formed by a number of ladies in town and lessons are given every Thursday evening in the G.A.R. hall by Mrs. Miller of Haverhill, who attended a summer school at Harvard for the preparation for such work.

Owing to the freezing of the standing pipes in the town it was impossible to supply the watering carts with water to sprinkle the streets during this week and much annoyance was caused by the great clouds of dust which arose.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell F. Wilson of Ballardvale and their chauffeur, Paul Haefel, were thrown from Mr. Wilson's automobile on Sunday afternoon and were severely shaken up. The accident occurred at the sharp turn at the corner of Harvard and Prospect Streets, Cambridge, where a large touring car collided with Mr. Wilson's machine.

50 Years Ago — November 1930

The efforts of the Andover firemen late Sunday evening failed to prevent the destruction of the old George Flint house on Jenkins road, near to the North Reading line.

The junior class of the Punchard high school will sponsor a costume party Friday evening, Nov. 21 in the auditorium of the Punchard high school. Music for dancing will be furnished by Mal Lundgren's Collegians.

A Ballardvale man appearing before Judge John J. Winn in Central court, Haverhill, on Monday was fined $100 when he was found guilty of illegal transportation of liquor. He appealed and was ordered held in bail of $100 without surety. The greatest patriotism, the highest nationalism is today that which sees our beloved country as one among a commonwealth of nations, dedicated to an intelligent peaceful settlement of all internal disputes by legal procedure. Only in this mind can we make glorious the death of our boys who lie today in France," said A. Buell Trowbridge, who was the principal speaker at the Armistice season observances held Sunday evening in the town hall.

Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world has accepted an invitation to attend the Andover-Exeter football game at Andover Saturday. He arrived in Andover today and is scheduled to address the Andover mass meeting tonight.

25 Years Ago — November 1955

A long-range financial plan for the town was discussed by the planning board and finance committee Monday night. It would establish a priority system for major town projects and plan revenue programs to keep pace with capital expenditures. Residents of Binney, Fletcher, Shepley and Union Streets appeared before the board Tuesday night to object to the request of Acme Concrete Co. that it be allowed to manufacture concrete on its property on Fletcher Street.

The Finance Committee has placed its stamp of approval on two of three school articles in the special town meeting Monday night. The Shawsheen School article, calling for $32,000 over the original $85,000, is still under consideration by the finance committee.

Dr. William V. Emmons, for 12 years a member of the board of health and currently its chairman, will be a candidate for selectman at the annual town election. Dr. Emmons will seek election to the term to be vacated by Chairman J. Everett Collins, who has announced his retirement.

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton was honored by hundreds of friends and coworkers Monday night at a surprise testimonial banquet in the Andover Country Club. An

Note Of Appreciation

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

With the end of the ASA's fall soccer program, I would like to publicly thank all of those kind people who assisted me in bringing to soccer enthusiasts results of the games. The column "On The Soccer Fields" could not be written without their weekly contributions.

I would also like to thank the 16 boys who gave me so much pleasure as coach of the Fury. Their enthusiasm, their cooperation at practice sessions and games, as well as their always excellent behavior, was extremely gratifying to me, and their parents should be very proud of each and every one of them. I encourage other women to get involved in the coaching aspect of soccer; it is great fun and if you are blessed with 16 boys of the same personality as I was this fall, you will derive such inner satisfaction, particularly when you observe at the end of the season, as I did, their progress in learning the skills as a result of your giving of your time. Do it, ladies!

Jim Flynn, thank you too for making my first coaching experience a simple task. See you on the soccer field next spring!

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Hostage Deal: Iran Would Get
Most Advanced, Heavy-Duty ArmsBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — President Jimmy Carter promised that when the U.S. hostages in Tehran were set free he would let the Iranian government take delivery on millions of dollars worth of weapons the Iranians purchased from the United States before the shah fell from power.

What he didn't tell the public, however, is exactly what this military hardware consists of. But our associate Dale Van Atta has seen a secret Pentagon report, and we can now reveal just what kind of weapons President Carter would turn over to Ayatollah Khomeini. They're not slingshots or B-B guns.

These weapons — $436 million worth — were bought by the late shah at a time when the United States was counting on him as our most dependable ally in the Middle East, outside of Israel. So the weapons included some of the most advanced, sophisticated items in our military arsenal.

Here is what the shah ordered and the ayatollah may get in return for the hostages:

— Phoenix missiles worth $41 million. These are missiles launched from fighter planes to shoot down enemy targets.

— Harpoon missiles worth $95.7 million. These are missiles designed to hit enemy ships, and can be fired from submarines, surface vessels or aircraft.

— MK-46 torpedoes, worth $16 million. These are submarine killers fired from surface ships.

— One F-14 jet, the Navy's most sophisticated fighter, worth $20 million, and one AH-1J Cobra helicopter, worth $2 million.

We have already reported that the U.S. Navy is woefully short of Phoenix missiles, which are used on our own F-14 fighters. In fact, the Pentagon is so in need of Phoenixes that Congress has authorized the Navy to buy the ones that are being stored for the Iranians.

In addition to these advanced naval weapons, the Iranians will also get $110 million worth of spare parts for the fighter planes, helicopters, missiles and warships they already have.

As for arms that can be used by Iran's hard-pressed ground forces in the war against Iraq, here is what Carter would turn over to the ayatollah:

Ten thousand rounds of bazooka ammunition, 28,000 anti-personnel land mines, 86,000 rounds of field artillery shells, more than 136,000 rounds of anti-tank ammunition and 8,656 medium-range, sophisticated Dragon anti-tank missiles.

The list also includes $5.8 million worth of spare parts for the Iranian army's weapons.

Finally, the Iranian air force will get more than $26 million worth of high-technology items, like cluster bomb units, fuses and laser-guided bomb kits. Also on the list are an additional $12.6 million worth of electronic countermeasure devices for fighter aircraft, and $23.8 million worth of spare parts.

DIRTY TRICKS: The political hoopla is all over, but 1980 may yet be remembered as a year of political dirty tricks. Nearly all the contenders have complained, especially officials of the John Anderson campaign.

In New Jersey, for example, Democratic Party officials saw to it that Anderson's name appeared on the ballot behind the Socialist, and the Communist Party candidates. Anderson was also the target of a campaign by the White House to convince banks not to loan him money, and hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent to try to knock him out of the race in other ways.

Inside sources with the Anderson campaign suspected that their phones were tapped. The Communist Party also suspected phone taps, but that's nothing new. The Communists believe the government has been tapping their phones since the party was founded in 1919.

The Citizens Party lost $60 in petty cash to a burglar. And the Libertarian Party's phones were frequently on the blink. However, the Libertarians — who believe in a totally free market — blamed the "monopolistic" telephone company for their troubles.

WATCH ON WASTE: Since World War II, U.S. troops have been stationed in Europe to help maintain the "mutual security" of the West. But the American taxpayers consistently bear most of the mutual burden.

About 200,000 American troops are stationed in West Germany. For the past few years, German officials have sent Uncle Sam bills for damages supposedly done to property by U.S. troops on maneuvers.

In 1975, to cite one example, the claims amounted to about $5.5 million. But last year, the Germans filed claims totaling nearly $39 million.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Rep. John Jenrette, D-S.C., the second congressman convicted in the ABSCAM scandal, lost his bid for re-election on Nov. 4, and he may not even be permitted to serve out his current term. Inside sources say the Republicans are going to force a vote on a resolution to expel him ... Several Senate investigators who probed the Billy Carter case have been visited by Internal Revenue Service agents. In the course of the Billygate investigation, it seems, some of Billy's private tax data was leaked, and that is strictly illegal.

Anatomy Of A Game

The Cherokees and Mohawks faced off in an Under 8 League soccer game recently, and came out even: each scored a penalty goal and two others for a final 3-3 tally. Below, opposing coaches Rick Kaplowitz of the Mohawks and Paul Schaa of the Cherokees share the same side of the Upper Shawsheen field and the same expressions; bottom right, Michael Taylor of the Mohawks, second from right, takes on foes John Bishop, Jeff Hamilton and Bryan Boucher. At left, below, Assistant Cherokee coach Bill Gray huddles with Eric Begg, Brian MacIntire, Craig Garcia and Jeff Hamilton, and left, the sports congratulate each other at game's end. Heading left are Mohawks Frankie Morey, John Eccles, Sean Darwin and Michael Zetlan. That's Garcia in the center for the Cherokees.

Warriors Drop Heartbreaker To Lowell

By Rick Harrison

A costly personal foul penalty with just over one minute to play, followed by a fluky 68 yard touchdown run by Lowell High halfback Greg Danas just 13 seconds from the finish, combined to frustrate Andover once again as the Golden Warriors' football team dropped a heartbreaking 7-0 decision to Lowell last Saturday at Lovely Field.

The loss dropped Coach Dick Collins' crew to 3-4-1 overall, and it stretched the locals' winless streak through five (0-4-1).

AHS has now been shut out three straight games, four of the last five, and the Warriors have managed just one touchdown in the last 22 quarters of play.

During the five-week scoring drought, the Andover defense has continued to play well, allowed just seven touchdowns itself.

Lowell, in hiking its Merrimack Valley Conference record to 3-5-0, limited Andover to 14 net yards rushing in 19 carries while chewing up 239 yards of Lovely Field turf itself.

Defensive Struggle

Neither team went anywhere on its first possession, but junior quarterback Carmen Scarpa engineered a mini-drive with some short passes midway through the opening stanza.

Scarpa hit sophomore Greg Sacco out of the backfield for 11 yards, spotted Wayne Merola twice for 16 and four yards, and scrambled out of the pocket for seven yards himself as AHS moved from its own 26 to the Lowell 38.

That was as close as the Golden Warriors came, however, as an illegal procedure penalty and a pair of incomplete passes forced Glenn McIntyre to unload one of his seven punts.

The visitors put together their best drive of the opening half early in the second period, following a 58 yard punt by McIntyre.

Lowell was pushed back to its own 11 yard line following a holding penalty, but

Halting A Drive

Andover Co-Captains Mark Robichaud (79) and Jim DePiano (50) move up to halt an advancing Dan Tighe of Lowell during last Saturday's heartbreaking 7-0 loss at Lovely Field. The Golden Warriors, scoreless in their last three contests travel to Haverhill Saturday afternoon.

Warriors

proceeded to use up over six minutes on the clock with a 14-play drive that covered 64 yards before fizzling at the Andover 25.

Sophomore halfback James Cooper did the bulk of the damage, carrying the ball seven times for 48 yards, while sophomore quarterback Dan Tighe pitched a 15 yard pass to Greg Danas.

A good stick by Jim DePiano on Cooper slowed the march, and that was followed by two incomplete passes and a three yard gain on a fake punt by Steve Camacho.

With time running out in the half, Bob Heidt intercepted a Tighe pass at the Andover 40 yard line.

Brien Moriarty, alternating with Scarpa and playing on a tender ankle, lofted a 17 yard pass to Tim Grams at the Lowell 43.

Moriarty was then sacked for an eight yard loss by Dan Fitzpatrick, and the half ended with a 12 yard aerial to Wayne Merola who was driven out of bounds at the LHS 39.

Lowell Control

The Red Raiders dominated the third period, mounting two semi-serious threats while Andover managed to run off just five plays the entire quarter.

LHS took the second half kickoff and moved from its own 18 to the Andover 34, thanks to the running of Tighe and Charlie Greenhouse, along with a facemask infraction against the Warriors.

The march was blunted when Lowell pass receiver Dave Murray was called for offensive interference on third down, forcing the Raiders to punt after they lost both 15 yards and the down.

Two plays later, however, middle linebacker Ken Wojcikiewicz pounced on an AHS fumble at the Warriors' 29.

The Andover defense dug in and forced Lowell to surrender on downs at the 24 four plays later.

Late in the third session, following a McIntyre punt, Cooper carried the ball five straight times for 30 yards as Lowell moved to the Andover 21.

White Recovers

On the opening play of the fourth quarter Cooper coughed up the ball, and Andover junior defensive standout Mike White recovered at the Warriors' 18 yard line.

A short time later, Tom Cormier pounced on a second Lowell fumble near mid-field, but once again the Andover offense couldn't get untracked.

State Tax Up

The Department of Revenue reports a total of $419.4 million in state tax collections for September. This was $65.2 million or 18.4 percent more than the same month a year earlier.

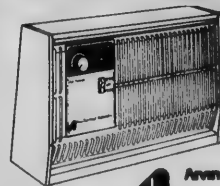

For the first three months of the fiscal year, tax collections were $912.8 million. This represents an increase of $80.2 million or 9.6 percent more than the first quarter of last year, and places total collections slightly above the estimated target.

With almost all taxes showing increases for the month and quarter, the most notable are alcoholic beverages, commercial banks, corporations, income tax — individual estimated and withheld payments — room occupancy, and sales.

Golden Booters Play In Tourney Saturday At B.U.'s Nickerson Field

In their final game of MVC League play, Andover High's Golden Booters won a 3-0 victory over Chelmsford to boost their total wins to 14. They ended the season with an enviable record of 14-1-1 to capture the East Division title and win a berth in the Division 1 State Championship Tournament.

Andover's perennial rivals, Billerica, won the West Division title with an equal number of points. Andover beat Billerica 2-1 in their one meeting early in the season and it is possible they could play them again at some point in the Division 1 play-offs.

The Golden Booters, because of their first place standing in the league as well as the total number of points accumulated, drew a bye in the first round of the play-offs. The Booters will play the winners of Tuesday's Salem-Lexington game held in Lexington, at Boston University's Nickerson Field on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 3 p.m. The single elimination set-up of the tournament makes it imperative that the Booters win if they are to continue in their bid for the title.

Andover 3 - Chelmsford 0

With all of the thought of the State Tournament in mind, the last game might have been inconsequential but Chelmsford had other ideas. They had just beaten a second place team in the Western Division, relegating them to a poor seeding in the Division 11 Tournament, and were anxious to repeat the performance and make themselves heard at the end of a disappointing season!

The main defense in the game up until the final three minutes, was a penalty shot taken and completed by Paul Thoday midway through the first half. The penalty shot was awarded following a corner kick by Steve Carbone; Mark Easton headed the ball towards the right upper corner of the net and in desperation, a Chelmsford fullback pushed it over the crossbar with his hands! Prior to the penalty shot, the Chelmsford goalkeeper had stopped seven out of seven but Thoday found the lower right corner for the tally.

Chelmsford battled back throughout the game and only opened their defense in the last few minutes when Dan Roberts scored and Paul Thoday made it three with his second goal of the game. Steve Carbone assisted on Roberts' goal and this point tied him for the lead in total points accumulated in league play.

The final two goals were actually set up by Mike Sherman's scrappy play and although he missed an excellent shot which would have put his name in the statistics, he contributed greatly to the two goals that were scored.

The win gave Brian Butler his eighth shut-out, which ties the season record for Andover shut-outs. The fact that it was such a hotly contested game should help prepare Andover for the tournament.

Contributing to the last victory were co-captain Dan Donovan, left defender Yvan Levesque, sweeper John Lemieux and left wing, Adam Roberts. Danny Boland played very well substituting for Mark Easton. Jeff Parker came close to scoring a goal in the closing minutes of the game.

With this win, Andover concluded its best season since the establishment of the MVC League.

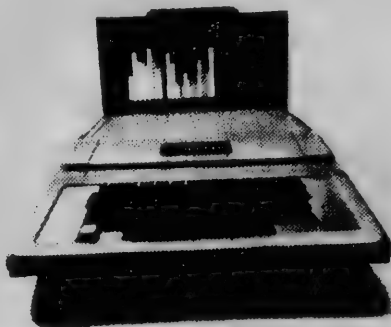

Statistics for the season:

Season record: 14-1-1 for 29 points. 47 goals for and 12 goals against goalkeeper Brian Butler - 15 games - 11 goals against for .72 average 8 shut-outs.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

The ASA's 1980 fall program officially ended last weekend. As far as total points are concerned, the Strikers led the Under 10 Boys; the Tornadoes, the Under 10 Girls; Crystal Palace, the Under 12 Boys; the Robins, the Under 12 Girls; Munich, the Under 14-16 Boys; and the Osprey, the Under 14-16 Girls. Brief results of all of the games played appear below.

Andover High School's Golden Booters having won a berth in the State Championship will be playing the first game in their bid for the title at Boston University's Nickerson Field on Saturday, Nov. 15, with a starting time of 3 p.m. All soccer enthusiasts and interested Andoverites are encouraged to attend the game on Saturday and support the local team.

Under 10 Division

Rogues 1 - Hurricanes 0

The Rogues took the lead in the first quarter when Jim Sullivan, perennial scorer, assaulted the nets on a fine pass from Rich Atkinson. Both teams made many attempts to get the ball into the nets in the rest of the play but good defense thwarted all attempts, and the Rogues won the victory points. Bow: the entire Rogues line-up as well as Scott Lanouette, George Willard and Paul Modello (Hurricanes).

Stompers 3 - Fury 2 Metros 2 - Fury 1

Playing a make-up game with the Stompers on Election Day, the Fury were not as successful as the Republicans! The Stompers held a two goal lead at the end of the third quarter, Josh Matitsky having scored twice (one on a penalty shot). The Fury put on the pressure in the final quarter, scored two goals (Ames Prentiss and Craig Busceme) but the Stompers increased their total (Adam Clark) and they won the victory points. Bow: Steven Hawes (Stompers) as well as Matt Salomone, Scott Robins, Andy Duck and David Stark (Fury).

The Metros controlled much of the action in the first quarter, during which Chris Eggert scored on a beautiful long shot aided by the prevailing gusty winds. The spirited Fury dominated the rest of the game, kept the ball in the Metros end but could not find the range. The Metros upped their lead when Steve Napolitano booted in the ball on a pass from Alex Egmont and Dana Orlando, and although David Stark after intense pressure on the goalie did score for the Fury, they were still down at the final whistle. Bow: the entire line-up of both teams for great effort.

Sockers 5 - Surf 1

The Sockers put on a scoring barrage in their game with the Surf and tallied a total of five goals before the final whistle. The spirited Surf did find the range in the final quarter (Robbie Hughes on a pass from Kevin Newman). Scoring for the Sockers were Steve Frochmak on a pass from John Mattola, Matt Pothier on a pass from Matt Cinelli, Derek Holmes, John Mattola on a pass from Thatcher Wortham, and Matt Corbett. Bow: Chris Gray, Andy Hunter.

Bow: Barry Connors and David Lewis (Stompers).

Sting 1 - Express 4

Diplomats 1 - Sounders 0

The one goal of the contest was scored in the final quarter by Carolyn Nash on a pass from Jennifer Stableford, to win the victory points for the Diplomats. Bow:

Stacy Melillo, Alison Director and Patricia Midolo (Diplomats).

Tornadoes 3 - Kicks 1

The Kicks took the lead in the second quarter when Amy Moody booted in the ball. The Tornadoes came right back and scored two quick goals in the same quarter (Krissie Carothers and Maia Medler). In the third quarter, the Tornadoes were awarded a penalty kick and when Alison Vaill completed it successfully, the Tornadoes won a 3-1 victory. Bow: Shannon Smith and Candace Staron (Tornadoes) as well as Lisa Desmarais, Carolyn Oskar, Erin Wallace and Sarah MacDonald (Kicks).

Aztecs 2 - Cosmos 1

In a hotly contested game which saw both teams playing some excellent soccer, the Aztecs won the points with the extra goal. The Aztecs scored first when Michelle Soreff made an excellent high shot on a pass from Laurie Rittershaw. The Cosmos tied it up when Denise Morey tallied. In the second quarter, Laurie Rittershaw booted in the ball on a pass from Rosemary Torrisi and won the points for the Aztecs. Bow: both teams for a fine effort.

WhiteCaps 3 - North Andover Salamanders 0

The WhiteCaps dominated much of the play but excellent defense denied them any successful shots on the net in the first three quarters. In the final quarter, the WhiteCaps (Mina Sheel (2) and Kim Anderson) found the range and tallied three goals to win the victory points. Bow: Suzy Kramer, Mirabelle Kirkland and Laura Corry (WhiteCaps).

Under 12 Division:

Crystal Palace 2 - Arsenal 2

Arsenal took the lead when Robbie Barnard scored on a high corner shot. Crystal Palace applied pressure in the second quarter and scored two quick goals (Jeff Smith on a pass from Henning Ohlenbusch and John Nuzzo on a pass from Mike Winters) to move ahead on the scoreboard. In the final quarter, Ryan Murphy tallied on a pass from Robbie Barnard to make the Arsenal the only team to deny Crystal Palace two points this entire season! Crystal Palace did lead the division in points accumulated. Bow: Mike Hardock and Greg Najaar (Arsenal) as well as David McDonough (Crystal Palace).

Leeds 3 - Ipswich 1

Ipswich tallied in the first quarter when Raj Sheel scored on a fine pass from Geoff Bolan. Leeds played aggressively during the rest of the game and scored three goals to win the victory points (Barry Tucker, Matt Young and Michael Avella). Bow: Mike Avella and Mike Schwartz (Leeds) as well as Tim Smith, Ray Reed and Bill Dutton (Ipswich).

Chelsea 3 - Coventry 3

Coventry held a commanding lead by the middle of the second quarter, having tallied three goals (Wayne Crowninshield on a pass from Jeff Leonard, Chris Colsia also on a pass from Jeff Leonard, and Chris Sapuppo). Chelsea responded by applying the pressure and tying up the game by the end of the third quarter (Ted Cormier, Mark Neaves (2), one off a throw in by Chris Nelson). The final quarter saw no goals due to excellent goaltending and the game ended in a hard fought tie. Bow: George Cioffi and Bob Boshar (Coventry) as well as John Driscoll, Chris Graff, Scott Plamondon and Chris O'Neill (Chelsea).

Blackpool 3 - Manchester 1

Manchester made the scoreboard in the first quarter when Chris DiClemente assaulted the nets. Blackpool tied it up in the same quarter (Stuart Leinson on a pass from Mike Burke) and with two goals by Scott Wilkins on passes from Jeff Kip and John Saalfank in the second quarter, they won the points. Bow: Dan Hegarty,

Robert Connor and Steve Gerroir (Manchester) as well as the entire Blackpool line-up.

Liverpool 3 Sunderland 2

Liverpool anxious to avenge their loss to Sunderland earlier in the season, took the lead with two goals in the second quarter. Sunderland tallied in the final quarter (Malcolm Galvin on a pass from Scott Brink) but Liverpool upped their total, and although Scott Brink tallied for Sunderland in the closing minutes of play, Liverpool won the victory points with the extra goal. Cort Pomeroy scored Liverpool's goals, one on a pass from Andy Lascher. Bow: Eric Frank and Paul Davies (Liverpool) as well as the entire Sunderland line-up.

Doves 1 - Cardinals 1

With less than a full complement of players, both teams worked hard in the first two quarters to get the ball out of the midfield and into the goal zones. The Doves tallied in the third quarter (Ronnie Kovner on a pass from Julie Boland) and when the Cardinals assaulted the nets in the final quarter (Torrie Fitzpatrick), the game ended in a hard fought tie. Bow: The entire line-up of both teams.

Chickadees 2 - Robins 2

The Chickadees tallied twice and the Robins did likewise, and the game ended in a hard fought tie, with both teams splitting the points. Maura Dunn dribbled the ball all the way down the field and scored for the Chickadees. Elizabeth Pastor made it two following a scramble in front of the net. Bow: Cheryl Crawford (Chickadees).

Finches 1 - Wrens 1

The Wrens tallied in the first quarter to take the lead. The Finches worked hard to tie it up and when Jennifer Hechemy scored in the third quarter on a pass from Susan Hamilton, they accomplished their objective. With no further goals, the teams split the points. Bow: Joe Pelc, Hal McCann and Bill Hamilton (Finches).

Sparrows 1 - Warblers 1

The Warblers tallied in the second quarter to get themselves on the scoreboard (Jennifer Surette). The Sparrows' defensive players denied the Warblers many attempts to increase their lead and when Tracy Costello booted in the ball in the final quarter on a pass from Kelly Murphy, the game ended in a hard fought tie. Bow: Susie Coffrey, Angela Bobba, Brenda Damon and Nancy Lee (Sparrows).

Under 14/16 Division

Falcons 1 - Hawks 1

The game was scoreless until the third quarter when Deanne Gianelly scored on a pass from Mary Botta to give the Falcons the lead. In the closing minutes of play the Hawks found the range and the game ended in a tie. Bow: the entire Falcons line-up.

Osprey 2 - Eagles 1

The Osprey won the victory points with the extra goal. Erin Sheehan tallied for the Osprey in the first and second quarters. The Eagles found the range in the third quarter (Mary Oppel on a pass from Judy MacDonald and Stephanie Weinstein) but were still one down at the final whistle.

Munich 5 - North Andover Seminole 3

North Andover pressed the attack in the first quarter and scored three quick goals to take a commanding lead. Munich came right back in the second quarter to tie it up (Michael Hobbs (2) and Peter Guschov) and with two more tallied in the third and fourth quarters (Scott Deery, one on a pass from Sandy MacNeish), Munich won the victory points. Bow: Norbert Ohlenbusch and Jon Stammers.

PeeWee B Team

Danvers League Andover 4 - Saugus 1

In this game, Andover tried out some new line combinations, as they had done in the past with good success. But this time, lack of familiarity with linemates' styles threw off timing just enough to cause a lot of missed chances. Andover dominated, but passes kept coming in one step ahead or behind, and many set-ups were too hard or too soft. Despite a lot of hard work, the score was tied at one goal apiece going into the third period. When Matt Alden and John Gangi combined to send Dave Riddiford in for what turned out to be the winning goal.

In the first period, Peter Trede got Andover on the board, grabbing a loose puck in heavy traffic to the right of the Saugus net, and rifling a shot past the beleaguered goalie. Trede, along with new partners, Bill Bruno and Mark Berberian showed good offensive strength through the first two periods. Kyle McCabe, centered new partners, Dan Hagerty and Mike Nelligan, and they were constantly buzzing around the Saugus goal, but just couldn't put their shots home. Mark Needham drove hard slap shots in from the point several times, and John Gangi had some fine rushes from defense to set up scoring chances.

In the third period, after Andover got the go-ahead goal, Saugus mounted a couple of strong offensive efforts. But Tom Herling, playing very smart positional defense, broke up a three-on-one rush and drove the puck out of the zone. Seconds later, Tom made another heads-up play to save Andover from getting caught in a line change, forcing Saugus to clear the zone and regroup while his team mates got reorganized. Gregg Tormey played some solid defense on the other side, holding off several Saugus bids to penetrate the zone. Near mid-period, McCabe, Trede, Matt Young and Berberian did some excellent penalty killing, at one time facing a two-men-short situation.

Coach John Young then got the more familiar line combinations back together, and with a minute left, Tormey sent Chris Sapuppo out of the defensive zone for a rink wide rush around several defenders, ending with a clear shot for the score. Seventeen seconds later, Matt Young closed out the scoring, taking a pass from McCabe and bouncing a low shot off the goalies stick into the top corner.

Andover's dominating of offensive play gave goalies Tim Adams and Chris Hansberry a fairly easy night, and they were ready for the saves that had to be made.

Squirt B Chelsea 5 - Andover 1

For the first time this season, the Squirt A's went into a game with a full roster of 17 players when they played Chelsea in a Danvers League game on Saturday. The B's played very well for most of the game, but came away 5-1 losers as several players were learning new positions. With more experience and practice, the team will improve as the season moves along. The Squirt B's can now skate three lines and three sets of defensemen.

Andover's Red unit of center David Sopp, wingers Todd Roycroft and Gary Bleszinski, and defensemen Chip Stella and Timmy Sullivan produced the B's only score of the game as Chip Stella blasted a shot by the Chelsea goalie in the third period. This group played well on all of its shifts throughout the game.

Elephant seals, 20 feet long and weighing 5,000 pounds, are the world's largest seals. The northern species (population 15,000) can be found from central Baja California to Oregon. ## A.J. DeFusco On UNH Hoop Squad

Former Andover High School basketball standout A.J. DeFusco will be a junior for the University of New Hampshire squad this year. A 6-2 guard, DeFusco lettered in soccer, basketball and track at Andover High.

The son of Atty. and Mrs. Arthur DeFusco of 1 Gemini Circle, A.J. was a back-up for the Wildcats last season, although his playing time should increase considerably this year.

UNH finished 4-22 last season, but should be vastly improved. The Wildcats lost only one player from last year and had an outstanding recruiting year.

Hockey

Although the Red unit provided the goal, it was the White unit which provided most of Andover's offensive pressure in the game. Center Matty Pothier and wingmen Michael DiSefano and D.J. Camarota spent most of their time on the ice bothering the Chelsea defense and goalie as each of the Andover group had several good shots on net. The White unit's efforts were helped greatly by Danny Iandoli and Michael Tiberii, their defensemen, who played the points very well all afternoon.

With Chelsea drawing the only penalties of the game, Andover's Blue unit became a power play team. Center Eddie Chaisson drew one of the Chelsea penalties as he was knocked down on a nice breakaway. Eddie's second breakaway of the game, set up by a good pass from winger Jimmy Morris, was stopped by the Chelsea goalie. Right winger John Constantine got the rebound of Eddie's shot, but his scoring bid was smothered by a Chelsea defenseman. The Blue unit featured two converted wingmen at defense and the two - Jonathan Shine and Eric Cutler - played their new positions very well. Andover's two goalies, Michelle DiStefano and Michael Murnane, again split the duties and each came up with some outstanding saves. The B's next game is Saturday afternoon in Danvers.

Pee Wee A

Andover's Pee Wee A's finally broke their recent skein of four ties and two losses with two victories last week. The victories were well earned as the A's were

Heart Of Hub

The Heart of the Hub walking tours meet Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10, and Sundays at 2 p.m., on the rear plaza of 60 State St., near "Where's Boston." Fee is $3.

forced to play both games with several key players missing.

Andover 7 - Haverhill 1

On Thursday evening, the A's defeated a very strong Haverhill Pee Wee A team 7-1. Andover completely dominated the game, outshooting the Hillies 33-16, despite having only 11 players in uniform. The victory portends well for Andover because Haverhill's record in the tough Wilmington League is 6-2. Andover can look forward to the rest of their Wilmington season with the knowledge that they can play evenly with the better teams in the league.

Haverhill scored the first goal of the game but goalie Greg Najjar and defensemen Paul Gilmartin, David Curtis and Stevie Donovan combined to shut them down for the rest of the game. Winger Cort Pomeroy led the scoring parade for Andover with the three goal hat trick. Linemate David Bartle chipped in with two goals, while Jamie O'Brien and Mark Neaves scored single goals. Center Mosa Kaleel worked hard with his linemates Cort Pomeroy and David Bartle in setting up their five total goals. Andover's Earl Abdoo and David Young also turned in fine efforts and would have had goals of their own if the Haverhill net-minder had not played so well.

Andover 5 - Triton 1

The A's followed up the Haverhill victory with a win-over Triton in a Danvers League game on Sunday. They showed more signs of their steady improvement by overcoming a very sluggish first period, which saw them get off only two shots on net, by coming on strong over the final two periods to score five times for the 5-1 victory. Andover goalie Greg Najjar stopped all but one of 18 Triton shots to earn the win.

Injuries to A's Jamie O'Brien, Kenny Young and Jeff McNeil and the illness of two other players forced Andover to play another game with only 11 skaters. The scoring punch was provided by David Bartle and Georgie Heseltine with two goals each, and Cort Pomeroy with a single goal. Cort also earned two assists as did Mosa Kaleel and Earl Abdoo. David Bartle and Paul Gilmartin had one assist each in the game. Triton managed to outshoot Andover 18-15, but solid play by defensemen Matt Shine, Shannon McCabe and Stevie Donovan insured that there were no rebounds left hanging in front. Winger Timmy Donovan and center David Young worked two breakouts late in the game which might have given Andover six or seven goals but Triton's goalie made two great saves on David and Timmy's shots. The A's next game is on Saturday in Wilmington against Reading.

Lawrence Y Offers YBA Basketball

YBA basketball — the game that attracted more than 260 youngsters last season and nearly 300,000 nationwide — will again be offered at the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. announced Rob Reeves, Youth Physical Director.

Sign-ups are slated for Monday, Nov. 10 at 7 p.m. in Russell Hall at the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. All participants must be accompanied by a parent.

The concept of a "fair play" basketball program in which every boy and girl plays equal time was developed jointly by the National Y.M.C.A. and the NBA Players

Association. "In the 'Y' we see mounting evidence that many youth sports programs may be more harmful than helpful to many of the youngsters who play," Reeves said. "Too much emphasis on winning-at-all-cost discourages many youngsters, turning them off all sports, often for the rest of their lives."

Following the League registration, all players will be assigned to a team. Practice sessions will begin in December with League action starting in January. All participants of the YBA program must be members of the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. For further information, contact the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. Physical Department at 40 Lawrence St.

YMCA

breaking techniques will be included in this year-round program where students may be promoted through the various belts. Classes, which will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7-9 p.m. are open to adults and children, grades 6 and up.

Other various fitness classes offered include the following: Y's Way to Physical Fitness, Circuit Training for Fitness, Y's Way To A Healthy Back, Aquacises, Fun & Fitness, Fitness for the Unfit, Postpartum Exercises, Yoga, Senior Citizens' Wednesday morning program, Men's Informal Basketball, Volleyball and Paddle Tennis.

Adult special interest programs planned for the Fall Term include: Puppy Kindergarten, Dog Obedience, Low-Cal Foods for the Holidays, Ceramics, Oil Painting.

Fair

The ninth annual Christmas fair featuring handcrafted items from "this year and yesteryear" will be held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 6 and 7, at the YMCA Civic Center, 96 State St., Newburyport.

Quality antique dealers and contemporary craftspeople from Massachusetts and elsewhere in New England include many participants from previous years. They will be displaying and selling a fine selection of articles for discriminating shoppers and browsers. "The fine crafts from this region are a pleasure to own or to give," commented "Y" director Louise Van Bokkelen, "and a choice antique can be a perfect one-of-a-kind Christmas gift."

All crafts and antiques will be for sale. The hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 6 and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 7. There will be a snack bar.

Ski Club Plans Film Festival

The Lawrencian Ski Club kicks off the ski season on Thursday, Nov. 13 with a skil film festival sponsored by Salomon/North America, to benefit the club's Alice Barrows Memorial Scholarship Fund. Films to be shown include the company's award-winning "Helix", filmed in the beautiful Canadian Rockies, the helicopter skiing capital of the world, and "The Thin Line," which chronicles the fast and often dangerous World Cup Downhill Ski Racing Circuit.

Lawrencian Ski Club Vice-President Jim Green explains, "This is an opportunity for local skiers to enjoy an evening of entertainment, and help support a very worthwhile cause. We'll be drawing for door prizes, and representatives from both Salomon and local ski shops will be available to answer questions."

The film festival will be held at Andover East Junior High School on Bartlett Street beginning at 8 p.m.

Documentary On Prisons In Massachusetts

"Killing Time," an hour-long documentary film which provides an in-depth look at the Massachusetts state correctional system, will be presented at the University of Lowell, O'Leary Library, Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m.

Karen Blomquest, visiting lecturer and former planner with the department of corrections, and Dr. Joseph Lipchitz, professor of history and head of the University of Lowell Law and Justice Program, will lead a discussion on the issues raised by the film immediately following the screening.

"Killing Time" was produced by Ellen Boyce and Sam Kauffmann and funded through a grant from the Massachusetts Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy, a program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. It goes behind the walls of four Massachusetts prisons tracing the structure of the system through its four steps: maximum, medium, minimum and pre-release.

Prisoners, guards and superintendents speak for themselves of their own experiences.

The program is open free to the public. According to the film's directors, "The name Walpole State Prison evokes an image of desperate men forever buried behind an unending cement wall. But statistics show that over 95 percent of the men who are confined behind this wall will re-enter our communities. Although taxes support a correctional system that begins at Walpole, few persons have any idea who or what lies behind that wall or how it affects those who work or are confined there."

Town Champs

Roller Skating Offered

The Andover Department of Community Services is sponsoring a Roller Skating Night for junior high school students during the Christmas vacation. This special event will take place on Monday, Dec. 29 from 6 to 8 p.m. at the "Roll On America" Family Skating Center in Lawrence.

This program is a new venture for the Department of Community Services and if it proves popular, the department hopes to integrate roller skating into its 1981 summer playground program.

Tickets for the event can be purchased at the DCS office on 36 Bartlet St. and from supervisors of both the East and West Junior High School open gym programs. For further information, contact the Community Services office.

White Cedar

The northern white cedar (not a true cedar) grows in northern New York and Vermont. It was the first tree to be taken from America to Europe. Cedarleaf oil is distilled from twigs and needles of this tree. The oil has a strong camphorlike aroma. It is used in disinfectants, paints, cleaners, room sprays, perfumes, and as a decongestant. A 35-gallon drum sells for $3,000.

Warriors

The Warriors' most solid bid of the game began with less than four minutes to play, following a Camacho punt, as they drove from their own 19 yard line to the Lowell 14.

The sequence of plays included a four yard run by Merola, a six yard pass from Scarpa to McIntyre, an eight yard keeper by Scarpa, a 10 yard sack of Scarpa by Lowell's Bill McGrade, a two yard run by Greg Sacco, a 26 yard pass from Scarpa to McIntyre, a 21 yard aerial from Moriarty to Tim Grams, and a nine yard toss from Moriarty to McIntyre.

That brought the ball to the 16 yard line, at which point Scarpa bucked the line for two yards and a first down at the 14.

However, on this play, Andover was hit with a personal foul penalty that brought the ball all the way back to the Lowell 29.

An option pass from Grams to Heidt fell incomplete, a pass from Scarpa to Sacco netted just five yards, a Moriarty flip to Mike Chiklis covered only two yards, and on fourth down with 30 seconds to play Moriarty was sacked for an 11 yard loss by Tom Grover.

Lowell took control at its own 32 yard line, and immediately went to the air.

Tighe tried to hit Cooper twice, and the second pass might have been intercepted had two Andover defensive backs not collided.

On third down Tighe handed off to Greg Danas, who dropped the ball on the ground and looked as though he were in trouble.

However, Danas regained control and shot through a huge hole to daylight. Once he reached midfield the Lowell running back had just one man to beat, and that he did with a quick move to the left near the Golden Warriors' 20 yard line.

Danas coasted to the endzone from there, breaking the scoreless deadlock with just 13 seconds to play.

Gary Wallace toed the conversion following the stunning 68 yard touchdown run, hiking the score to 7-0.

Following the kickoff, which was low and hard to handle, AHS had time for two plays.

The first was a pass from Moriarty to Grams, which went incomplete, but Lowell was hit with a 15 yard personal foul penalty.

LHS defensive lineman Russ Trudel broke through to nail Moriarty as he scrambled on the final play of the game.

No Picnic

Lowell held statistical edges in first downs (13-8), yards rushing (239-14), total yardage from scrimmage (254-141) and scrimmage plays (58-55).

Andover did manage a 137-15 edge in passing yardage, as Scarpa and Moriarty combined to hit 13-of-26 aeriels (no interceptions).

Coper led all rushers with 111 yards in 18 carries, while Danas added 80 in five lugs.

McIntyre, who averaged 33.5 yards per punt, was the top pass catcher with three receptions for 41 yards.

Merola caught three for 32 yards, Sacco three for 17, Grams two for 38, Heidt one for nine and Chiklis one for two yards.

Andover now concludes its season against two opponents who have been hot lately, and the Golden Warriors must win both to avoid only the second losing season in the last 16 years for AHS.

This Saturday the locals face Haverhill at Haverhill Stadium (1:30 p.m. kickoff), and Thanksgiving morning (10 a.m.) the

UU Building May Be Sold To Wang

The Unitarian-Universalist Church on Lowell Street may become a day care center.

Members of the congregation met last week and voted favorably to sell the building to Wang Laboratories which intends to convert it to a day care center.

The Rafton's spoke out in favor of insuring the availability of land in the face of Andover's accelerating development, "to avoid becoming merely a town of rows of houses." Rafton proposed that citizens contribute to a fund to purchase properties, and the new era of acquisition was underway.

Emphasis changed again in the 50's, 60's and 70's, with the rising cost of land. During his presidency, Claus Dengler emphasized "outreach" into the community, and pushed efforts to mark the trails and publish a map. He was, it turns out, the force behind this very book.

The last half of the book includes a description and map of each of the AVIS reservations, and not just from hearsay: the author walked each of the trails in every season of the year as part of her research, and credits her family for going along.

No stranger to research, Mofford, who works at North Andover's Stevens Library and the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, dipped deep into local annals for her 238-page product, and interweaves AVIS's history with that of Andover itself.

The book is full of such historic tidbits as: the first door-to-door mail service in Andover occurred in November, 1897, and the November Club's building on Locke Street was the first clubhouse in New England built for a women's organization.

Ironically, she points out that the new gas stove, a symbol of progress in the late 19th century, was making the wood stove obsolete — a good 85 years ago.

She reminds us too that many of today's "problems" aren't new

Both the church and officials for Wang have agreed on an undisclosed price, the company has until February to exercise its option.

The 14-year-old church building is considered energy-inefficient and was initially offered for sale over two years ago. An offer was made to purchase and convert the structure to office space, but zoning regulations prohibited the sale.

David E. Young, president of the board of directors of the church, said that if the sale goes through, the congregation will relocate within Andover.

Wang will conduct the day care center for children of employees, but may also open it to the public as well, according to reports.

Wang also holds a large parcel of industrial property in the West Andover Industrial park which it is holding for future development.

might have been approached differently in the past. AVIS was putting a bounty on caterpillar nests as early as 1894: from March to May, Andover school youngsters carried them to school where the teachers counted and burned them. In 1899, 41,425 beetles were collected in this manner, and in 1909-10, 159,000 tent caterpillar belts were turned in.

In 1980, the year that Proposition 2½ could threaten our garbage pick-up, she recalls the efforts made by AVIS to put trash receptacles around town, even assign "wardens" to be responsible for them.

Violin Recital

Verena Dobnik will present a violin recital Monday, Nov. 24, at 8 p.m. at Durgin Hall Recital Hall, University of Lowell, Pawtucket and Wilder Streets.

First prize winner in the Framingham Competition for Young Artists, Miss Dobnik also received a scholarship from Boston University to study in Tanglewood.

An honors graduate of B.U., she played in the prize-winning B.U. Concert Orchestra which represented the U.S. in the 1976 von Karajan International Competition in Berlin.

She is an alumna of the Mozarteum, Salzburg, where she studied in summer classes, and has participated in master classes for solo and chamber music both in the U.S. and in Europe. Miss Dobnik is currently studying with Prof. George Neikrug, chairman of the string department at B.U.

Her accompanist for the University of Lowell performance will be Juliana Osinchuk, a student of Madia Boulanger, Paris, and Rosina Lhevinne and Martin Canin, Julliard School of Music.

In the science department, Morrison tells us that in addition to being one of the most beautiful spots in town, Indian Ridge is of great geological importance, and that sketches of it have appeared in books all over the world.

More than a century ago, according to the book, Prof. Edward Hitchcock reported that Andover's were "among the very oldest rocks of the world." He wrote that the rocks at The Rocky Hill Reservation were the "stubs of mountains, which during countless ages of exposure, have been worn down to their present size."

"The marks of the glacial epoch in Andover are open to inspection before every man's door —" he concluded.

The book is also sprinkled with a "poetic" touch here and there: Oliver Wenden Holmes' reminiscences about his student days at Phillips Academy in 1825, include references to outings at Deer Jump and Indian Ridge.

Walk inside the giant stained glass globe of the world as it was in 1935, at the Christian Science Center, Mass. Ave., Boston. Monday through Friday, 8 to 4; Saturday 9 to 4; Sunday, noon to 4:45. Free.

The handsomely-bound book was formally introduced at AVIS's annual meeting Tuesday, and is now available at the Andover Book Store.

Selectmen

Among town officials' reservations about rezoning White's land, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, are uncertainty over how the rezoning would affect the town's long range planning.

"All our planning to date — including water and sewer — is projected for a community of 45,000," the manager said. "If there is a radical departure from that figure, our planning and capital investments made to date may be placed in jeopardy." He pointed out that the town's sewer system is already "close to capacity."

Selectman Susan Poore agreed: "What is the future of Andover?" she asked. "We are at a crossroads right now, of making some decisions that could blow all our planning right out of the water."

White's proposed zoning change could also threaten the town's "stability within the community," Clark said, and would not necessarily serve the two age groups who most need multi-family housing in Andover — the elderly and the young.

He also pointed out that 25 percent of Andover's current housing stock is in multi-family housing.

Selectman Edward Harris maintained that the existing housing stock "still does not meet with certain requirements of a number of people in this town who have sold their houses and moved to North Andover" to live in condominium developments such as Millpond.

"Different types of multi-family housing exist," Harris said. "That (point) ought to be brought out somewhere."

The chairman pointed out that "lots of questions" on how White's townhouse development might affect Andover's "transportation system, tax base, school system, stability and a whole range of other topics" remain unanswered.

Director of Community Development and Planning Rhys Kear indicated that the Planning Board has had "no opportunity to provide an analysis" of the issues in question in time for a fall town meeting.

White's first article would allow a zoning bylaw change to create a new use within an existing residential zone for multi-family housing, with all plans to be approved by town meeting.

His second article calls for an amendment to the zoning bylaw which would change the zoning classification of his Andover Street parcel from single residence B to the new townhouse cluster zone.

If the articles are approved, Wynwood Associates of Andover would build a 48-unit development called "Baker Village" on the land.

Organ Concerts

Saturday afternoon organ concerts are given on the great organ at the Busch-Reisinger Museum, 29 Kirkland St., Cambridge, at 4:30 p.m. Token admission charge.

When snow melts off your roof while the air is still frigid, it's a sure sign your home loses heat through the roof.

Gurry's article calls for rezoning a 3,000-square foot parcel at the corner of Morton and Main Streets from single residence A to general business. Although Gurry says he plans to convert the multi-family residence into offices, "once it is rezoned it could be used for any general business purpose, from a store to a gas station," Kear said.

The special town meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20. The town manager said arrangements are underway to hold the meeting at East Junior High

Decisions

lower services."

The cuts may come in both minor and major areas, Clark said, from cutting the street sign budget in half, to increasing sewer user fees by 100 percent.

The town could save $500,000 by eliminating refuse collection, the manager said, although this would in fact cost the taxpayers more. He explained that the current system costs taxpayers 60 cents a week on their property tax bills, and is tax deductible, while private collection could cost from two to five dollars a week, and will not be tax deductible.

Similarly, if snow plowing expenses are reduced by cutting back sanding and salting, the public may pay more in the long run with a higher accident rate and lost time at work.

Clark's message to the 8,200 Andover voters who favored Proposition 2½ is, "You can tell us where the changes should come. We have to be consistent — the town meeting process decided (what services the town will fund), and now town meeting will have to un-decide."

Clark is not sure the townspeople are ready to face the reality of reduced services. "We cut out leaf collection two years ago," he said, "and people are still raking their leaves into the street, expecting the town to pick them up."

The manager cited current complaints about crowds at the high school polling place during the presidential election. "The central polling place was chosen to avoid expenses, yet some people object to a 15 or 20 minute delay at the polls once every four years."

If town meeting, by voting on a private article, insists on returning to multiple polling places, then what is town meeting willing to cut in return, the manager wondered. "Will we defer the maintenance of public buildings? Will we cut police and fire services? The town has to decide how much inconvenience they're really willing to put up with."

The town is "fortunate" to have a year to ponder these questions and start taking practical steps, the manager said. He expects, for example, to begin negotiations with public employee unions on changes in current staffing patterns, as part of an "orderly transition to working under 2½."

In addition, the townspeople will be surveyed to determine their attitude toward increased user fees, reduced services, and the relation of the town and school budgets now that fiscal autonomy has been abolished.

Some good may result from the proposition, Clark said, including the end of fiscal autonomy, too-powerful employee unions, and unrealistic public expectations of government.

"But the bath is going to be extremely painful," he warned, "and I'm not so sure the public is prepared to take the bath. The scrubbing is not going to stop when everyone wants it to — the legislature is not going to stop it."

"The legislature has received the message," he concluded. "Now they're waiting for the rest of the message."

Carob Tree

The carob tree (Ceratonia siliqua) is native to the Mediterranean region and also grows in Arizona and California. Although the seeds are inedible, the long, flat pods can be eaten raw or ground into powder for baking. Carob has a sweet chocolate flavor; it is rich in protein, low in fat, and contains no stimulants.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

NEARLY IDEAL INVESTMENT

Historically speaking, real estate as a tangible or real asset, has been nearly the ideal investment. During periods of inflation, real estate's value has increased at a faster pace than the general price rise. By the same token, in times of depression real estate has maintained a higher value than most assets as declining prices set in.

Recently, the FHA completed a survey that revealed what real estate investors have known for a long time:
land values are constantly rising and have been for many years.
The figures released by FHA showed that, in the 20-year period studied, the average price of raw land increased 40 times its original costs.

When we combine the growth forces of real estate with the advantages of leverage (using large amounts of other people's money) and then add the incomparable tax benefits —
we can readily understand why more millionaires are made in real estate than in any other endeavor. As
W. C. Fields said:
"Show me a millionaire and I'll show you a rich man."

Intertel Lights Too Bright

The lights in the Intertel parking lot in the West Andover Industrial Tech Park are too illuminating for at least one neighbor's comfort, the selectmen were told Monday night.

Walter Belisle of 242 Chandler Road said he lives across the street from the Intertel lot and finds the company's lights "much too bright. They are very, very disturbing and something's got to be done."

Belisle suggested that the lights be lowered so that they will not "light up the whole neighborhood." He added that since he has complained to Intertel, the company has shut the lights off at 8 p.m., although "sometimes they are on at 3 a.m. There's no real schedule."

The company is currently trying to solve the problem, said Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo. The inspector said he and engineer Jim Rand discussed the problem with two Intertel representatives last week.

According to the inspector, the company has just discovered that its light poles are 28 or 29 feet high, in violation of a town zoning bylaw which sets the maximum height at 25 feet.

DeSalvo said the poles will be lowered. Belisle, however, said he does not believe that 25 foot poles will "cure the problem."

When questioned by the selectmen, DeSalvo explained that other measures to solve the problem, such as shielding the lights or tilting them away from the neighboring homes, are either impossible or have already proved ineffective.

The town has therefore asked for a lighting audit, to show whether the lights are in compliance with lighting regulations in the state building code, said DeSalvo, adding, "I really believe the audit will tell the story."

"I would suggest to Intertel that we would like to see them do everything possible to make the lights lower and so they don't disturb the neighborhood," said Selectmen Chairman James Abramson. "I'd like us to stay on top of it and see what happens."

Belisle said he was also unhappy that a stone wall and a stand of 35 foot trees which formed a "beautiful screen" separating his property from the lot have been removed.

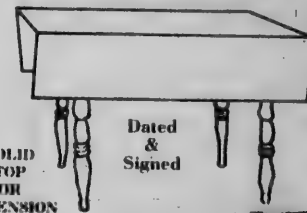

They have been replaced, the neighbor said, with a smaller wall and five or six 10 foot trees, after he had complained to Rand and former building inspector William Meins.

"I can live with the trees being lower," Belisle said, as long as the lights are changed so that they "just light up their lot, and not the whole neighborhood."

New Buses To Be Put In Service

Robert J. LeBlanc, chairman of the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority, has announced final delivery of all seven new RTS-11 buses has been completed. The MVRTA will lease these new buses to its contractor, Trombly Motor Coach Service of North Andover, to operate the Greater Lawrence area bus system.

LeBlanc stated, "At $127,000 each, these buses represent a substantial investment and commitment by the cities and town of the Greater Lawrence area in mass transportation. It is my hope that the private sector will begin working with the MVRTA to plan for the future mass transportation needs of the Merrimack Valley."

Dining Out Can Save Money, Says Expert

"Dining out can be significantly cheaper than preparing and eating the same meal at home," says Professor Lee Kreul of Purdue University's School of Consumer and Family Sciences. "In fact, it can be as much as 92 percent cheaper in some cases!"

Kreul's statement is based on a recently completed study evaluating the cost dynamics of home vs. restaurant dining commissioned by the Time Out Institute.

One role most women continue to dominate is that of meal planner-preparer with total food budgeting and expenditure responsibilities. "We wanted to know if making a meal from scratch was still the most economical and practical means of feeding her family," commented Kreul. "So many aspects of women's lives and family structure have changed, we felt certain traditional meal economics may well have changed also."

Kreul's assumption proved correct. His study compared eight different dining situations for both sandwich and fried chicken meal prepared at home and purchased by four different sized families. Every attempt was made to duplicate the restaurant meal in the home situation as closely as possible.

The study confirmed the smaller the family unit, the greater the savings realized by opting for the restaurant meal. In fact, a single person could save as much as 92 percent by eating a chicken dinner out versus preparing a similar meal at home.

As families continue to decrease in size and change in structure, the option to dine out is even more of an economic value Kreul stresses. The Bureau of Census reports family unit size decreased from 3.14 persons in 1970 to 2.78 in 1979... a figure expected to drop to 2.5 by 1980. "Our study clearly shows that a restaurant's ability to inexpensively produce a meal at a lower unit cost is due to the large volume of meals served daily. As family sizes decrease, that restaurant economy of scale naturally makes it far more expensive for the home chef to produce a low-unit cost meal," Kreul summarizes.

Kreul's study disproved the common assumption "made-from-scratch-meals" are always less expensive. Findings also sharply contradict a recent USDA study which compared raw food costs of a hamburger meal at home with the same meal's menu price in a fast food restaurant. The USDA concluded the homemade meal to be a clear cost savings.

"The USDA study isn't realistic," charges Kreul. "It is a narrow view to compare just the food price and totally disregard other costs incurred in home food preparation — preparer's time, service, clean-up, kitchen facility and utility use costs. These variable costs are all included, plus profit, in the restaurant's menu price and should be taken into consideration in any price comparison research."

Studies generally, and wrongly, overlook the cost of a homemaker's meal planning, preparation and service time. Other household costs such as gas and electricity or range maintenance, related to each meal, have also increased. Kreul points out, "A woman's rising opportunity cost of time, or the value she places on her uncommitted time, has given rise to an age of convenience foods and more frequent meals out." More than 50 percent of all adult females now work, according to the U. S. Department of Labor Statistics.

"Double incomes and hectic lifestyles have all been instrumental in reducing her willingness to cook and have increased the practicality of dining out," Kreul notes.

Dining Out - An Occasion For All Seasons

Dining out has become a popular American experience, whether it be for a snack, sandwich or complete meal.

Once reserved for special occasions, visits to fine restaurants in our area is now more popular and commonplace than ever. It offers a relaxing change for families, an opportunity for a change of pace, a chance to discuss business, for some, or just a social gathering among friends, with good food and beverage to spice the occasion.

Contained in these pages of this special section of the TOWNSMAN are several fine dining places, offering the right atmosphere and the right menu for any occasion.

Sheraton Rolling Green Caters To Many Tastes

Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn, Andover, offers something to please many discriminating tastes.

Well-cooked meals tastefully served are offered continually from breakfast through dinner Monday to Friday from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

But the food is served in three distinctive areas, each with its own appeal and unique style.

For those who seek fine dining pleasure, a varied menu of excellent dishes prepared to perfection is offered in the beautiful surroundings of Garden Court Restaurant.

The handsome area has been designed with fountains, pools, and almost every imaginable type of tree and foliage plant to give patrons the feeling of eating outdoors in an open courtyard.

For patrons who prefer the comfort and privacy of a more secluded area, there is The Pub where sandwiches and light meals may be enjoyed in the Olde England surroundings of dark woods and low ceilings.

And for those seeking a night out, live entertainment is offered in the nightclub Tuesday through Saturday. "Harry's" is a comparatively new adjunct to Sheraton's effort to cater to a wide spectrum. It features a good-sized bar, comfortable booths and popular groups that make the atmosphere alive with the sound of music.

Balance Your Tipping

You've just finished a superb meal in a leading Parisian restaurant. As the obsequious waiter hovers at your right elbow and the wine steward smiles encouragingly on the left, you wonder nervously how much of a tip they expect — how much, in other words, to enable a dignified retreat from the premises.

The question of tips is a touchy one. On the one hand, too small a tip may create a scene at the worst. At the least there is the spectre of an indignant servant in your wake.

Then, there is the nightmare when you tip someone what you thought was a decent, but not overgenerous amount for some trifling service to have the fellow immediately bow down to kiss the shoes, or do some equally effusive thing. You know you did something wrong as the recipient stammers his heartfelt thanks — but how much?

Then we have a real problem. If the service is inadequate and you don't want to tip — don't.

Or leave a token tip. Some folks have little signs they leave in restaurants and hotel rooms thanking the recipient for services rendered, and adding "sorry, but tipping is against my principles."

There are pros and cons on this one, and a rule of thumb could be based on what kind of wages the servant receives. If the person works only for tips — and some do, then give a tip. If service is excellent, be generous. Where a living wage is paid anyway, think in terms of how good the service was, and tip accordingly. Tips are a way of life in most of the world, and the well-greased palm is the one on which the system turns. Some balance between no tips and too liberal a tip is desired.

Coming to the rescue on tipping is a new TWA pamphlet called "Tipping." Covering customs on tipping in countries the airline serves, the pamphlet is the result of a survey taken among TWA employees around the world. Nations include Austria, Egypt, France, West Germany, Britain, Greece, Israel, Italy, Portugal, Spain, and the United States.

Services include those performed by waiters, chambermaids, bellhops, baggage porters, doormen, concierges, taxi drivers, ladies' room attendants, hairdressers and theater ushers.

You didn't know theater ushers receive tips? In most countries they don't, but count on this in Egypt, France, Greece, Italy, Portugal and Spain.

Cab drivers around the world usually expect from 10 to 15 percent of the meter charges. There are some exceptions, such as in Japan and New Zealand. TWA's booklet covers customs in the countries listed above.

Waiters around the world expect a tip, even if a service charge already has been levied on your bill. Try 10 to 15 percent of the bill, minus taxes, such as the European V.A.T.

Deposits Up Slightly At Essex County Banks

Deposits held at the 21 full service commercial banks in Essex County were up 2.2% during the first half of 1980, according to statistics released here today by the Massachusetts Bankers Association. The same was true for the state as a whole.

Banks located in Essex County and elsewhere in the state experienced net outflows in demand deposits during the first six months of this year. Although gains in demand deposits were experienced by commercial banks during the second quarter of 1980, they were not enough to outweigh the outflows experienced during the first quarter.

Ordinary savings deposits (passbook) held at full service banks in Essex County increased by .68% during the second quarter. This was marginally more than elsewhere in the state. During the first half, banks in other parts of the state had a 2% drop in passbook savings deposits, while those banks in Essex County experienced a 2.7% decline.

Bank customers are continuing to become more interest rate sensitive both in terms of where they invest their funds and also where they borrow funds, MBA said.

Total time deposits held at banks in Essex County jumped 17.6% compared to slightly less than 8% for banks elsewhere in Massachusetts during 1980's first half. During the second quarter, time deposits held at banks in Essex County increased slightly while banks located outside the County had a net outflow of time deposits of almost 9%.

Demand for money market certificates (MMCs) and 2½-year small saver certificates was strong during the first half of 1980. MMCs held at banks in Essex County jumped 39.9% during the first half, compared to 39.5% for banks in other areas of Massachusetts. The growth of MMC deposits held at banks throughout the state slowed considerably during the second quarter of 1980.

During the 1980 first half, residential 1-4 family mortgage loans extended by banks in Essex County increased by 5.9%. This was slightly below the 6.6% increase for banks elsewhere in the state. Multi-family residential mortgage loans extended by Essex County banks rose by 18.2% during the first half. This compares to 14% for banks outside the County.

Consumer installment loans extended by banks in Essex County dropped by 1.5% during the first half, compared to a 2.3% decline reported by banks outside the County. Particularly hard hit in Essex County were loans for credit card and related loans and other retail consumer goods excluding automobiles.

Non-real estate secured loans extended to businesses by banks in Essex County gained 17.7%.

June 30, 1980 income after taxes but before security gains or losses for banks in Essex County jumped 24.2% over a year ago. This compares to a 32.3 gain for banks elsewhere in the state.

At the end of 1980's second quarter, annual return on average assets for banks in Essex County was .70%, which was exactly the same as the statewide average.

'Dining Out' On A Diet

Your favorite restaurant with its luxurious decor, a solicitous maitre d', a chef famous for pound-producing sauces and congenial dinner companions need not crumble the determination of the most dedicated dieter, according to Elaine Robin, director of a weight-watching group in Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

"Special events," Mrs. Robin noted, "provide a good opportunity to demonstrate that even the weight-conscious diner can enjoy eating out, provided he or she follows certain guidelines to avoid eating traps."

Some of her "dining out" guidelines are as follows:

1. Choose steak houses or seafood restaurants whenever possible.

If you go to another kind of restaurant you can always order meat, poultry, or fish broiled and ask that your vegetables be prepared without butter.

2. Don't pour over the menu.

If you are on a weight reduction program, you know what you can have.

Ask for it.

Be cordial to the maitre d', and send your compliments to the chef for helping you stay on your diet.

3. Order a salad or coffee immediately.

Move the basket of rolls to the other side of the table.

If you have something to eat that meets your diet requirements, and if you are not confronted with the temptation to nibble, you will find it much easier to follow your food program.

Capt'n Chris' Landing Offers Historic Dining

Lowell has been making headlines these last few years with its historical park, rich in the heritage and lore of the textile mills.

If you're thinking of touring the city, you might want to try Cap'n Chris' Landing for lunch or dinner.

Sitting on the banks of a canal, the seafood restaurant is designed in the theme of a mill-side eatery of the 1840s.

During interior construction stages, the owners hired a man to search in museums far and wide for memorabilia and paraphernalia of the mill era. The antiques, photographs, and machinery pieces he turned up gracefully adorn the restaurant.

Cap'n Chris' Landing is 18 months old, a mere baby sister to the original Cap'n Chris in Haverhill on the banks of the Merrimack River. The older Cap'n Chris has a water theme, too, but it's emphasis is on the ocean and nautical gear.

Prices at the restaurant are moderate, ranging from $6.95 to $10.95 for dinner. Both Cap'n Chris offer monthly specials, birthday and anniversary deals for members of its gourmet club.

Intimidated By The Wine Steward?

If you get heart palpitations when the wine steward offers an almost bible-like leather bound wine list, you're not alone.

A random sampling of North Shore residents reveals that many feel uncomfortable under the scrutiny of the restaurant wine steward.

"I smile meekly and silently pray I won't pick a wine that will cause him to arch his lips," says one Ipswich teacher, who also confides he likes to sip a California chablis with his dinner at home.

"It's confusing for me," comments an Amesbury salesman, "when I see the five part names to wines I know only as 'red' or 'white.'"

Even a Wenham artist who says he enjoys the more expensive Bordeaux, claims he's apprehensive when ordering. "I wait for the steward to say 'Very good, Sir,' and if he doesn't I think I made a blunder," he confesses.

According to some North Shore wine stewards, people shouldn't get intimidated when selecting a restaurant wine.

"the rules for what to drink with what are really less stringent than people realize," offers another veteran steward.

"The rule of thumb has always been to select white wines with fish and red with meats," he observes. "But there can be exceptions, and if a person enjoys a particular wine with a certain dish, that should be the deciding factor more than what seems to be thought 'appropriate.'"

Finally, when in doubt both men say it's safe and usually less expensive to inquire about the house wines. "And don't be afraid," they plea in unison, "to ask your steward questions. After all that's his job."

Seafood Restaurant Favorite

Americans eat an average of 111 pounds of meat each year, but only 12 pounds of fish.

However, fish is considered big business for restaurateurs because an estimated 75 per cent of all seafood is eaten out.

As one fish and chip franchise owner put it, "Fish is the meal you can take home, but can't make at home." While Americans eagerly throw a steak into the broiler or pop a roast into the oven, most wait until they're seated at a restaurant to order baked stuffed lobster or shrimp Creole.

Dining experts say that most Americans simply haven't had enough exposure to seafood but all that's changing. Throughout the midwest and non-coastal regions of the U.S., new seafood restaurants are cropping up.

Colonial-Era Silverware Is Valuable Find Due To Lack Of Early Silversmiths

For centuries England was a world leader in manufacturing silver. The British aristocracy encouraged the design and production of magnificent gold and silver tableware, flatware, lighting devices and objects of vertu.

Laws strictly controlled silversmiths and governed silver content with elaborate methods of identification under the direction of the Goldsmiths Company.

During the colonial period of our history the austere life here and the demands of establishing homes in the wilderness discouraged the development of American silversmiths. For this reason silver of our colonial period is extremely rare and valuable.

Not subject to the laws of the English Guild, American silver was generally identified by the maker's name alone.

Much of the work of colonial silversmiths was devoted to supplying church silver. They closely followed traditional English design, except in New York where the Dutch influence was felt.

By 1830 the industrial revolution affected silversmiths as well as other craftsmen.

At this time the words Coin, Pure Coin or Warrented were used to indicate that the metal used was .900 pure; the same quality as coin from the U. S. mint.

As our country grew American smiths became more dominant in the field of producing fine silver articles.

In the 1850's our silver manufacturers began classifying silver with the identification Sterling signifying it as .925 part silver and .075 other metals.

Thus most silver marked Coin, Pure Coin or Warrented was manufactured between 1830 and 1850. Although it varies slightly in silver content generally it contains about .900 parts silver. It also frequently appears lighter in weight and more fragile than sterling.

The years before 1830 were the golden years of hand craftsmanship. The name of the maker, if identified on your silver, may greatly affect its value.

Before hastening to sell your Coin Silver, it might be well to seek the advice of a qualified dealer in antique silver. In some cases antique and artistic value will far exceed the value of silver content alone.

Dining Out Enjoyed By Millions

The art of dining out is enjoyed by millions each year.

This is the report of a survey made by the National Restaurant Association which states that one out of every three food dollars is spent for meals outside the home.

The NRA also reports that one out of every three persons in the United States enjoys dining out, be it for a snack, lunch or dinner.

Better than 50 percent of the families included in the survey said they had eaten out in the prior week. By 1980, the projections from the survey indicate, one out of every two dollars spent for food will be spent for meals away from home.

Why do people leave the home to dine?

There are no doubt as many answers as there are people but one major reason is that it is an enjoyable activity in which the entire family can participate. But, and this is the big factor, no member of the family has to wash the dishes or clean up the dining room.

People are naturally drawn to good food, excellently prepared and served with style. And it is to such restaurants that the American family turns to for a change, whether it is once a week, once a month or just to celebrate a birthday, a promotion or an anniversary.

Such restaurants are becoming more popular each year according to the most recent NRA survey. Currently they rate third in popularity and all indications are that they will gain in the years to come.

Choosing restaurants is a personal thing and there are many and varied reasons, but the most important factor is quality.

Right now, dining out has grown to the extent that restaurants purchase about 20 percent of the country's food products. In addition, the food service industry employs 4.7 percent of the nation's work force, the largest number of any retail sector, according to the National Restaurant Association.

In fact, an NRA official said recently that "the food service industry is one of the bright spots in the nation's economic picture. Dining out is a significant part of the life-style of this great country, and the restaurant industry makes a major contribution to our nation's economy."

A very large camel can drink 60 to 70 quarts of water at once.

Service A Top Consideration For Restaurant Owners

Area restaurants joined the National Restaurant Association and allied industry trade groups in a nationwide drive to heighten pride in service throughout the giant $45 billion foodservice industry.

Under the banner of "We're Proud to Serve You!" area food service and lodging businesses are seeking to rekindle new enthusiasm for an old-fashioned concept — pride in service.

"The idea," says the National Restaurant Association, "is to get hundreds of thousands of restaurant employees involved in a program that builds pride in accomplishment."

"We're Proud to Serve You!" offers a plan to improve service performance and morale together with a program to merchandise this effort in ways that capture the public's attention.

A wide array of promotional materials, including campaign buttons, posters, floor mats, counter cards, and customer giveaway items will begin appearing soon in area restaurants, the NRA said.

"Pride in service is a positive value that can be shared by both employee and customer at no additional cost to either. It follows that if foodservice employees take pride in what they do it will translate directly to restaurant customers in the form of more courteous and conscientious service," the trade association believes.

The NRA further described the drive as "a positive, purposeful program that will help the industry win new friends. It represents a novel, fun approach to a situation that restaurant customers consider important when dining away from home."

Surveys show that when service falters in a restaurant, the quality of the total dining experience is diminished in the eyes of the consumer.

The NRA said foodservice and lodging businesses everywhere, regardless of size or type of service, are being encouraged to take part in the drive to promote pride in service. Potential for participation is great because the industry ranks first in the nation in terms of total number of business units.

There are an estimated 336,400 commercial restaurants and about 151,800 institutional foodservice operations in the U. S. today. In terms of people, the industry employs more than 3.8 million, including more teenagers and parttime workers than any other industry in the country.

Nationwide, the campaign is being introduced in more than 50 cities coast-to-coast. It is being backed by industry trade groups that count more than 120,000 members.

Place Settings Evolved Through Centuries

Restaurant-goers are quick to appreciate the handsomely-appointed table setting and the shining silver flanking the plate.

Few ever stop to think that there was a time when such table appointments were reserved only for the wealthy.

In Tudor England, salt cellars were distinguished family possessions, used only by the very wealthy who could afford the prestigious container for the expensive seasoning.

The salt cellar was always placed within easy reach of the dining master of the house, and social rank was designated by seating around the table in relation to the salt cellar.

This gave rise to the oldtime expression, 'worth your salt.'

The spoon is the oldest eating utensil, dating back to the shells first used by primitive man. Later handles were attached to the shells and even later wood and ivory tusks were carved into spoons.

Bronze was the first metal used on the table, followed by gold and then silver.

The spoon as we see it in today's restaurants dates only from the 1600's.

Knives followed a similar evolution, the first made from stone and flint, followed by bronze and the other metals.

Restaurateurs Use Studies To Gauge The Wants Of Their Diners

"Fun is people. The restaurant business is people. Here, like my grandmother used to say, 'you want to get, you give.'"

Don Smith, now a professor and formerly owner of a multi-million dollar restaurant business, once chaired a panel of the new breed of "Fun Dining" restaurateurs at a National Restaurant Show.

Smith and his grandmother are right, agreed Clyde Thompson, vice president of marketing for Hickory Hearth restaurants. The trick is to measure what people want to get so you can give it.

Thompson uses marketing techniques and questions consumers are accustomed to find as they watch TV or buy panty hose and beer. But Thompson's marketing techniques are unusual in the restaurant business.

Market feasibility studies are the questions and answers on competing restaurants in the area. Who has 50 percent of the market now? Who goes to those places most often? How do people in the area perceive the restaurants presently doing business there? What kinds of things are lacking in restaurants in the area?

Thompson showed how answers to these questions make up a market feasibility study, the kinds of information on which to base market strategy.

Market strategy is 'focus on segmentation, of differentiation, on a marketing mix which meets the unfulfilled expectations of customers,' Thompson said.

The market mix, according to Thompson, "combines elements which form a package giving greatest satisfaction to customers. It may be putting out a fruit and salad bar when other restaurants in the area have small salad bars. It may be adding items to the menu which other restaurants don't have."

prompt service."

However, since most tipping is done after service is performed, it seems to be more a reward for services already rendered than an incentive for service to come. Strong does not believe that tipping is a prerequisite for being served promptly and courteously.

Food Service Establishments Have An Interesting History

The history of public eating service is probably as ancient as the Old Testament, which frequently refers to inns.

"Restaurant" has its origin in the Latin root word, "restaurare" which means "to restore." In the 16th century, this Latin root word was applied to a spicy broth and called a "restorative beverage." Later it was applied to other "restorative" foods, especially gravy, soups, bouillions, and similar preparations.

The honor for creating the first "businessmen's lunch" apparently belongs to a chap named Segius Locates, a Roman innkeeper in 40 B.C. He devised the feature for ship brokers who were too busy to go home.

Some authorities claim that the "medieval" history of the restaurant industry began during the French Revolution in 1789, when hiding aristocrats were fed in secret by their servants. These rendezvous became known to other aristocrats who were willing to pay a small charge for well-cooked meals.

In ancient times, there were places for public eating roughly similar to our restaurants. Before the dawn of civilization, when people began making their homes in one place and occasionally traveling away from home — as distinguished from nomads who had no real homes — they needed a place to eat and sleep en route. Thus early restaurants were usually in conjunction with sleeping accommodations.

Inns, hotels and monasteries of Europe served this function up to the 17th century. Chaucer's Canterbury pilgrims used to gather prior to their journeys at the shrine of St. Thomas a Becket to dine and revel. They also held dinners there after they returned, at which time the best teller of stories during the pilgrimage was rewarded with a free meal and feted. This was the idea of the inn host, Harry Bailey, who went along on the trip to judge the best tales.

In England, commoners had patronized eating places called "ordinary" as far back as 1577. These were taverns which served only at specified mealtimes — usually between one and four o'clock — at a long, common table and at a fixed price. Diners couldn't come in any time and sit any place, then choose from a vast menu.

A noted ordinary frequented by literary figures in the 17th century was the Castle Ordinary. It burned down in 1666 and was rebuilt as Dolly's Chop House. The latter gained renown when "Dolly" introduced pretty serving aides instead of waiters. Dolly's Chop House was famed for choice of beefsteaks and ales. Fielding, Defoe, Swift, Dryden, Pope, Gainsborough and Handel were steady customers of this Chop House.

When coffee was introduced to Europe, the restaurant function was taken over by coffee houses which were popular in England from the 17th century on. In France, the "Cafe" (coffee) arose.

Seafood Consumption Increases

Seafood consumption, once down around 10 pounds per year is now up to more than 12 pounds per year, and most of it is eaten in restaurants.

Fish is considered big business for restaurateurs because an estimated 75 percent of all seafood is eaten out.

As one fish and chip franchise chain owner put it, "Fish is the meal you can take home, but can't make at home."

While Americans eagerly throw a steak into the broiler or pop a roast into the oven, most wait until they're seated at a restaurant to order baked stuffed lobster or Shrimp Creole.

Dining experts say that most Americans simply haven't had enough exposure to seafood but all that's changing. Throughout the Mid-West and non-coastal regions of the U. S. are seafood restaurants are cropping up. Fish and chipperies, nautical white tablecloth operations and medium-priced family restaurants are growing rapidly.

Fast-food fish operations are catching on across the nation. Among the clusters of hamburger stands, fried chicken take-outs, pizza huts and sub shops, fish is becoming a booming business.

Long popular in Britain, the idea of fish chipperies are starting to catch on.

The president of one fish and chip fast-food company said, "We decided that fish and chips is American, anyway. The British stole it from us during the Revolution. But we found the British method enviable. We felt Americans would not accept the fishy smell and flavor common to English fish and chips."

Here in New England, the fish story is a little different.

Along the Atlantic Coast, people have long been enjoying the harvest of the sea, dining out, and often at home. Many New Englanders don't mind if their fish tastes fishy.

Even though area cooks may serve haddock or filet of sole at home in the kitchen, seafood is still big business at area restaurants.

Most North Shore restaurants offer seafood on the menu. Italian restaurants, steak houses, continental restaurants, all offer seafood specialties. Even hamburger stands offer their own brand of fish.

All during the year, many Essex county residents travel to the coast to dine on the freshest seafood in the most rustic settings. They enjoy steamed clams and lobsters fresh from the pot, perhaps even raw oysters served on the half shell.

Lobsters, clams, scallops, haddock, scrod, halibut and shrimp all rate as favorite foods around here. Swordfish and blue fish are real treats when available fresh and Cape Cod scallops are the most tender breed.

But New Englanders are lucky because seafood is always best when fresh. Many areas of the country never get a taste of fine salt water food.

The Businessman's Lunch Dates Way Back To Ship Brokers' Meal

The "businessman's lunch" is older than you think.

The honor of creating the first belongs to a chap named Sequis Locates, a Roman innkeeper, who in 40 B.C. devised this feature for ship brokers who were too busy to go home for lunch.

The first restaurant "promotion" dates back to 14th Century London. Chaucer's Canterbury pilgrims would gather before their journeys to dine and revel at the Tabard Inn. The innkeeper, Harry Bailey, began going along on the journeys and judging the best stories told. The top rated storyteller won a free meal at Bailey's when the group returned to London.

The first waitresses were at a place called "Dolly's Chop House," which numbered among its clientele many famous writers, painters and composers. Fielding, Defoe, Swift, Dryden, Gainsborough and Handel were all steady customers.

Beefsteak Leopold Has 'Best Flavor . . . Ever Tasted'

By Craig Claiborne
N.Y. Times News Service

I had another letter recently from my old friend Henry Funk of Lancaster, Pa., who is curious about the origins of food and the lore of gastronomy. He enclosed a copy of a recipe he had discovered in a book that I have had in my library for nearly 20 years, "Bull Cook and Authentic Historical Recipes and Practices," by George Leonard Herter and Berthe E. Herter (Herter's, Waseca, Minn., 1960), an old compilation of food facts and recipes, many of questionable authenticity. It is an interesting and much-quoted book, however.

The recipe that Funk sent is for beefsteak Leopold I. Funk proposes that if the recipe is authentic, perhaps it is the original one for steak au poivre. It says:

"Leopold I was born a Prince in 1790 in Saxe-Coburg, Bavaria, Germany. He was a great eater and made a great study of recipes. He became King of Belgium and was well liked by the Belgians. His first wife died in childbirth. He not only had a taste for good food but an eye for beautiful women. His second wife was Louise Marie of Orleans, a real beauty and daughter of King Louis Philippe of France.

"Leopold and his wife both were experts on cooking; but Leopold himself was the one who created the recipe Leopold I. Like all really great recipes, it is a simple one.

"Now take your beefsteak, whatever kind that you desire, and lay it onto a plate. Salt it on both sides to taste. Now take your peppermill and grind a thin coating of pepper berries over one side of the steak. Take your fingertips and press the pieces of the pepper berries into the meat as much as possible. Turn the steak over and do the same for the other side. Now broil the steak as described under broiling steak elsewhere in this book. Remove the steak when done as you desire it and quickly take a heaping spoonful of butter and spread it over the entire steak. The butter blends with the herb flavors of the pepper berries and gives the steak the best flavor you have ever tasted in a steak. It does something for beef that you just would not believe possible until you taste it.

"Beefsteak Leopold is available at many fine restaurants in New York and goes under the name of Steak Poivre. At Maxim's in Paris, France, it is called Steak Albert. At Maxim's they use white pepper instead of whole ground pepper. They pour one ounce of hot brandy over the steak before serving it. It is very good, too, but I prefer holding to the original recipe to the letter."

For many years I have described the origins of the soup called Billi B. which, to my mind, is conceivably the greatest soup ever. I have always ascribed the name of this soup to "a tin tycoon" named William B. Leeds (Billy B.). The gentleman dined often at Maxim's in Paris and his favorite soup was a cream of mussel that the restaurant eventually listed on the menu as Bill B.

Pros And Cons Of Dining Alone Explored In Study

11A
THE TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 6, 1980

It's been a fairly common assumption that few people like eating alone in restaurants. Now it's a fact. A new national survey of people who dine alone proves it and offers some insights and suggestions that can make the experience of dining alone more pleasant for the diner.

Following last year's survey of men and women in dining situations where the woman picked up the check, The Magic Pan Restaurant was prompted to investigate attitudes of men and women about dining alone in restaurants as another trend that might affect its own service and attitudes toward diners in its 86 restaurants across the country.

The national survey was conducted for The Magic Pan by the Gallup Organization, Inc. Men and women 25 years and older and in professional, business and non-professional white collar occupations across the country were queried about eating alone in restaurants where table service is provided. Interesting opinion comparisons between dining alone for lunch versus dinner were revealed, and some surprising differences came to light in attitudes between the sexes.

Nearly half the men and women in the survey report that they actually like having lunch alone. In contrast, 6 out of 10 reply that they dislike dining alone for dinner. Furthermore 25 percent of the people dislike dining alone for dinner very much, while for lunch only 16 percent dislike it very much. It is interesting to note that women are more inclined to like both lunch and dinner alone more than men.

When respondents who dine alone only at lunchtime were asked why they did not eat dinner out alone, they most frequently replied because there was "no reason to" do so.

As might be expected, reading a book, paper or magazine is rated as the number one activity that people do to make themselves more comfortable about dining out alone. Nearly equal numbers of men and women read at lunch. But for dinner, one-third of the women admit to read a book while only one-fourth of the men say they read.

"Just relaxing" and "people-watching" are also pastimes that single diners engage in to feel more comfortable at lunch. At dinner, "having a drink" becomes more important. While men are more inclined than women to have a drink, particularly at dinner, men and women are still most inclined to read to feel more comfortable when dining alone.

The majority of men and women agree that there are certain things restaurants can provide to make them feel more comfortable about eating alone. Foremost is a friendly waiter/waitress and second is good, prompt service. A quiet, casual atmosphere, a courteous attitude and familiarity with the restaurant are also cited as factors that make people feel at ease.

On the other hand, people also report that there are things about restaurants that make dining alone uncomfortable. "Poor service" is the single most important factor. They define "poor service" as "bad service; service is poor for singles; inattentive waitress; depersonalized service; hurry-up attitude."

A solid 93 percent of the respondents report that a pleasant experience dining out alone for lunch or dinner does influence them to return to that restaurant with other people. This kind of "repeat business" is something for waiters and waitresses to think about when serving the single diner.

It is also interesting to note that the majority of respondents believe they get comparable service when they are dining alone as when they are with other people. About one-fourth feel they get worse service, and a few mention that the service is actually better when dining alone.

What specifically can restaurants do to make the single diner enjoy a comfortable experience when dining alone for lunch or dinner? Give them fast service and the opportunity to order a glass of wine (instead of wine by the bottle). These are two priorities that surfaced from the majority of people. Fast service is slightly more important to men than to women.

However, there also appears to be a place for leisurely service too, and that's at dinner. While only one-third commented that leisurely service is appropriate for lunch, nearly one-half are happier when dinner is served at a leisurely pace.

Generally the single diner is opposed to restaurants doing anything special that makes them appear noticeably alone. The majority of both men and women oppose both special seating sections for single diners and sharing tables with other people who are dining alone. Interestingly though, people are evenly split in their feelings about being seated facing single diners at other tables.

Single diners are also fairly evenly divided in their preference about getting more attention from the waiter/waitress for lunch or dinner. At lunch, people are in fact more apt to respond negatively to more attention. And for both lunch and dinner, men more than women favor more attention from the waiter/waitress.

For a luncheon meal, a convenient location figures most prominently in the restaurant selection of single diners, with type of food offered and familiarity with the restaurant ranking second and third. For dinner, the type of food a restaurant serves becomes the most important deciding factor with location, atmosphere and familiarity with the restaurant of secondary importance.

Focusing closer on the "dinner alone only" respondents in The Magic Pan study, approximately one out of two reported eating dinner alone in the past year when staying out of town in a hotel or motel. As might be anticipated, more men than women responded affirmatively.

Only three percent order dinner from room service, while one-fourth usually have dinner alone in the hotel restaurant, and about as many dine alone outside the hotel. The main reason for eating in the hotel restaurant is that it is convenient and easy to find. A few also feel that it is safer and more secure.

Those who usually dine out of the hotel report liking a change of atmosphere and trying different restaurants. Some also feel they get better quality food outside the hotel.

Male Diners Consistently Tip Higher, Eat Faster

Male diners are better tippers, eat breakfast and lunch faster, and have more fun eating out than do women.

B. Brody Seating Company, Chicago, manufacturer of contract dining furniture, undertook this survey to obtain a better idea of trends in the restaurant industry and to garner facts which might be relevant to the design of dining furniture.

The survey was conducted among 200 members selected at random from the National Restaurant Association membership, with proportional representation from all 48 continental states.

Some statistics on respondents:

1. Seventy-four percent characterize themselves as family service, medium-check; 17% say they're white-cloth, high-check types; and 9% say they're fast food and carry-out places.

2. The sample says 17% of their revenues come from breakfast, 30% from luncheon, and 53% from dinner.

3. The average restaurant in the sample redecorates (paints or washes) every 2.5 years, while it completely remodels and refurnishes every 5.7 years.

4. The sample says 54% of customers prefer to sit in side chairs (not arms), 30% like arm chairs, 6% like swivel chairs, and 10% prefer booths.

Some conclusions:

1. Dining out involved companionship, even at breakfast. Most people eat with two persons or more: 38% with two or more at breakfast, 48% at lunch, 57% at dinner.

2. Most dining patrons (47% to 59%) prefer to sit at tables rather than in booths or at the counter.

3. Anywhere from 54% to 61% of diners are men.

4. Men spend less time at dinner (1 hour 35 minutes vs. 1 hour 30 minutes).

5. Breakfast averages $1.12 in price, luncheons $1.70 and dinners $3.95. Luncheons and dinners are higher-priced at private parties in the same restaurants. Prices have stayed approximately the same over the past year.

6. Men tip consistently higher than women: 13% vs. 9% at breakfast, 14% vs. 10% at lunch, and 15% vs. 12% at dinner.

7. Tastes in foods vary between men and women. At breakfast, over two-thirds of men prefer eggs with some form of breakfast meat (bacon, sausage, ham), while almost half of the women prefer rolls or toast. At luncheon beef is preferred by the men, while the women want salads. At dinner, nearly half the men like steak, while the same number of women prefer seafood.

8. Men and women see almost eye-to-eye on the ordering of dessert: only about a quarter to a third do so. Pies are the preferred luncheon dessert for those men who do order, and they're also the leading favorite with women. At dinner, pies lead with men, but women prefer ice cream.

9. Where drinks are available, the men will outdrink the women: 1.5 vs. 1.1 cocktails at lunch, 2.5 vs. 1.5 cocktails at dinner.

10. Cash is the preferred method of paying for a meal. 95% at breakfast, 89% at luncheon, 84% at dinner.

The word "tips" is said to have originated from the first letters of the phrase "to insure prompt service." Since most tipping is done after the service has been performed, it would appear to reward rather than to insure good service.

But why should tipping be a prerequisite for being served promptly and courteously? Frankly, I do not think that it is. Rather, I believe that the custom must have originated as a sort of status symbol on the part of the served to demonstrate their ability to pay for special treatment.

For many years, waitresses, waiters, bellboys and other service employees in many large hotels, restaurants and clubs not only worked for their tips, alone but actually paid for the privilege of working. With the advent of the minimum wage laws, this custom was abolished. However, the minimum rates established by these laws for service employees generally are lower than for non-service employees, thus taking into account the tips received by the former.

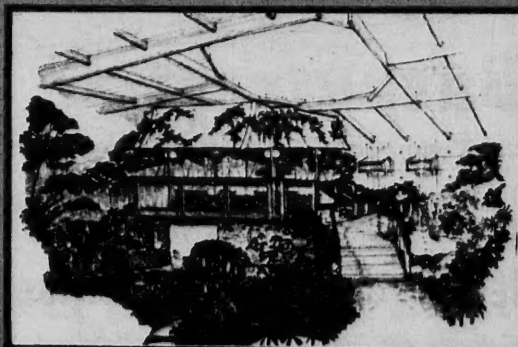

At least one thing which may be said in favor of tipping is that it probably has helped more young people to attain a college or business school education through summer employment as waitresses and bellboys than by any other form of position. For example, it is not unusual for a waitress during an eight to ten-week season to earn from eight hundred to a thousand dollars toward her education.
